County School Directors Would Abolish Annual Institute

Institute Is Not Favored By Directors

County School Directors Would Eliminate Annual Institute Sessions

FILLS NO NEED IN PRESENT PROGRAM

Expensive Vacation For Teachers And Pupils Is Assertion

"County teachers' institute week is a thing of the past. It is of little benefit to the teachers. It is a great expense to the taxpayers. It is a vacation for both students and teachers. It should be discontinued."

These are the views of the school directors of Lawrence county. Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, W. A. Brown, a member of the Wampum borough school directors, presented a resolution for discontinuing the present system of teachers' institute, before the school directors of Lawrence county, at their 26th annual convention. The meeting took place in the Sunday school room of the Second United Presbyterian church, County Line street.

Adopt Resolution.
The resolution against teachers' institute was adopted almost unanimously by the body of directors.

Adoption of such a resolution is a plain indication of the view of the directors on the long discussed question of institute.

However, the system of teachers' institute can not be changed without a lot of red tape. The school code would have to be changed—and that would have to be taken up before the state legislature. The fact that the directors have indicated their thoughts in the matter may have some effect.

"The institute instructors tell the county teachers what they should have told them in school. Institute causes the teachers to lose over 1500 individual days. Years ago institute was unnecessary. With the stiff qualification for an instructor to secure a county position, the value of institute is a thing of the past," a number of the directors argued.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Some "peep-peeps" were heard coming from the postoffice this morning, indicating that some little chicks are doing some traveling.

The official "turning around place" for automobile seems to be the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad station on the East Side. Any motorist who is going east and decides suddenly that he wants to go west, ducks into the station grounds, goes around the tracks and out, headed in the desired direction.

Fa New was asked by a motorist yesterday, the way to Jameson hospital. He said he was a stranger in these parts and that he had been trying to find the hospital for an hour. "Just when I think I am about there, I find myself at that big Cathedral," he said. Reminded Pa New of a visit he once made to New York City. At least a dozen times he circled around the streets and ended up each time in large Central Park!

School directors of Lawrence county are having their convention today and tomorrow in this city.

A millinery saleswoman now in this city has already displayed his stock of women's straw hats for the spring of 1931 in the sample room of a local hotel.

REPORT EIGHTY PINTS OF EVIDENCE STOLEN

Eighty pints of bonded liquor (it said so on the label) held in a room in the basement of the court house have been stolen. The liquor cache used by the county detective in storing evidence has been raided, and while the robbers left the "moon" alone, the 80 pints of bonded liquor (maybe it was) are gone, the official relates.

Just who took the liquor is one of those things about as clear as Dr. Einstein's pet theory of relativity. The liquor store house is in an out of the way place. After bumping your head on a couple of steam pipes and crawling back along a corridor that is littered with valuable records you arrive at the storehouse. In appearance it looks like the cave of some Arabian bandit or the hideout of a Billy the Kid.

Here the evidence of liquor raids is kept stored. The door isn't much as doors go, just an ordinary one with a couple of hinges holding it on and a light hasp holding the lock. To open it one needed but an iron bar and this the robbers seemed to have had.

After opening the door and removing the 80 pints of bonded liquor the hasp and hinges were bent back into place and for several days nobody knew it was gone, according to officials.

At the current prices of "Pete the Honest Bootlegger", this would mean about $400 worth of liquor, it is said.

Pinchot Selects Colonel Davis As Adjutant General

Appointment Will Likely Go To Senate For Confirmation Next Tuesday

COLONEL DAVIS WELL QUALIFIED

New Adjutant General Is From Scranton And Was Former Lieutenant-Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Col. David J. Davis, of Scranton, today was appointed Adjutant General of Pennsylvania by Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot.

His appointment will likely go to the Senate next Tuesday afternoon, shortly after the Governor takes his oath of office.

Col. Davis is chief of staff of the Twenty-Eighth Division, the Pennsylvania National Guard, and was Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania during Governor-elect Pinchot's first term.

Announcement of the appointment was made today by the Governor-elect in the presence of Col. Davis, a delegation of Lackawanna county citizens, including the mayor of Scranton and the District Attorney, and newspapermen.

Has Brilliant Record
In making known his selection for the post, the Governor-elect said the appointment gave him a keen sense of satisfaction and "because of my strong feeling of gratitude to my friends in Lackawanna county."

Governor-elect Pinchot said "Col. Davis has a brilliant record overseas and the position he now holds of chief of staff of the Twenty-Eighth Division is a guarantee of the highly successful administration of the office." He added that Col. Davis was Lieutenant Governor during (Continued On Page Two)

Nineteen Years Ago, County Had Coldest Weather

Mercury Registered 40 Below Zero At John Cox Farm Near New Wilmington

While looking through a scrap book today, Mrs. S. H. Burnside of the Harlansburg road discovered a clipping from the New Castle News of January 13, 1912, which tells of the coldest night in Lawrence county's history.

The temperatures as given on that morning varied. At Brown's barber shop in this city it was 31 below zero. At the John Cox farm, New Wilmington, 40 below zero. The Ellwood City Forge Works reported 24 below. Wampum reported 24 below. Edenburg 20 below. At Cascade Park it was 30 below.

The coldest weather which had previously been registered in New Castle was 28 below zero in 1894. There has been no winter since 1912 when the mercury went so low. The weather at that time was quite a contrast to January 13th of the present year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The agricultural appropriation bill carrying $213,959,670 was reported to the Senate today by the Appropriations committee.

The amount reported to the Senate is $903,968 more than was contained in the bill as it passed the House and $40,630 more than the budget estimates for 1932.

Senators Attack Red Cross Plans

Thomas And Wheeler Declare Senate May Be Asked To Probe

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The American Red Cross, now in the midst of gathering $10,000,000 for drought relief, was threatened today with a senatorial investigation into its management, relief operations and financial policies.

The organization was charged by Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, with raising huge relief sums, spending as little as possible and hoarding the remainder in a swollen estate fund. He declared it had $18,000,000 available for immediate relief and would be guilty of "mismanaging its public trust fund" if it did not use its reserves to remedy existing distress.

Criticism Hurdled
Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana, also criticized the organization, declaring it was holding millions in its treasury while appealing for more money. The two threatened a senatorial investigation in event congress failed to authorize the $15,000,000 food loan provision for drought stricken states.

There has been a rumble of opposition to the Red Cross on Capitol Hill since the people's legislative service broadcast an attack on the organization's financial policies. There also has been considerable resentment against John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, ever since he testified at the senate's unemployment inquiry. He declared then the Red Cross had ample funds to relieve suffering, but a few days later asked the President to issue a public appeal for another $10,000,000.

Former Mayor Of Oil City Is Dead

Colonel A. J. Greenfield, 95, Veteran Oil Operator Dies In Chicago

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Jan. 14.—Col. A. J. Greenfield, 95, former mayor and postmaster of Oil City, died last night in Chicago, according to word received here today.

Col. Greenfield was born in Washington county and came to this section after serving in the Civil War. He became prominent as an oil operator throughout the region here.

When production from the Pennsylvania oil field, first in the nation, was bought and sold on the Oil City Exchange, Col. Greenfield was named president of that body.

The veteran operator left Oil City about 25 years ago to make his home in Chicago. He leaves two sons.

Motor Vehicle Deaths Higher

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—During 1930 there were 32,500 motor vehicle deaths in the United States, the National Safety Council announced today. This is a 4 per cent increase of the 1929 record of 31,215 deaths.

Reports from 32 states, representing 75 per cent of the population, were the basis for the council's estimate.

Although the 1930 figure is the greatest in history, the percentage of increase is the smallest since motorizing became a safety problem.

P. H. C. Official Dies In Sharon

Dr. R. G. Baird, Supreme Auditor, Well Known Here Passes Away Today

Dr. Robert Greenley Baird, Supreme Auditor and State Deputy of the Protected Home Circle, passed away this morning at 3:30 in his home, 423 South Oakland avenue, Sharon, after a brief illness.

Dr. Baird was widely known in New Castle through his frequent visits to the local Circle and had endeared himself to many here who will regret to learn of his death.

He was born in Harmonsburg, Pa., March 20, 1856, and had been a practicing physician in Cleveland and Sharon prior to entering P. H. C. work. He had been ill since last Thursday.

Surviving are his widow, Edith Cottle Baird; two brothers, Daniel of Charleston, W. Va.; and John W. of Canfield, O.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 from St. John's Episcopal church, of which he was a member, the rector, Rev. Frederick B. Atkinson officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery, Sharon.

Governor Starts His Fourth Term

Maryland Again Administers Oath To Albert C. Ritchie

EXECUTIVE HAS EYE ON HOOVER'S SEAT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 14.—Albert C. Ritchie, whom many regard as a Democratic presidential possibility in 1932, assumed the governorship of Maryland today for the fourth consecutive term—an office to which no other man has ever been re-elected once let alone four times.

In an inaugural speech, he outlined with characteristic vigor and directness his philosophy of government, and gave what inevitably must be considered a platform of principles upon which he rests his political future.

Announces Platform.

Briefly summed up, they were:
1—Tolerance in all things.
2—Repeal of prohibition and the return of the liquor problem to the states.
3—Less encroachment by the federal government upon the rights of the states.

4—Less meddling by the federal government in business.
5—More national energy devoted to the solution of economic problems, particularly unemployment.
6—Less government of every kind, to the end of better government and less taxation.

There was, of course, no mention in the governor's speech of national (Continued On Page Two)

Campbell Notified To Destroy Ballots

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell received a notice today from Federal Judge R. M. Gibson, directing that ballots impounded in the senatorial contest of William S. Vare and William B. Wilson be destroyed. The contest was begun in 1929 when Wilson contested the election of Vare to the United States senate. The ballots cast in the 1928 election have been held ever since under the court order.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Has the death knell of organized defiance of law and law enforcement been sounded in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia?

If you lend heed to the rumblings of bewilderment and fear spreading through the ranks of racketeers in and about Pittsburgh today, an affirmative "yes" fairly shouts for recognition.

The long hand of Uncle Sam, the racketeers say, is quietly going about its business of brushing away the law violators—witness the cases of Ralph Capone and Terry Druggan in Chicago—in much the same manner that crumblers are flicked from a clean tablecloth.

Miles and Croesus were well to do, and scattered their dough with a vim, it cost them a heap for their houses and lots, and clothes that would keep them in trim. Their yearly expenses were millions no doubt, and they had a good time then I tell you, but honestly folks they lived simpler then, than the humblest laborer now. For automobiles were unknown to those lads, no radios, airplanes and such, did they live in high style as compared to today, you that they didn't, not much. Their light was a candle, their plumbing was bad, and cleaned all their carpets with clubs, for vacuum sweepers were not yet in vogue, you can put those old fashioned dubs. No, Miles and Croesus were millionaires then, but we've got them licked, far and away, for we have all conveniences with us to help, it's thirty two, chilly, today.

Gaston Post Takes Action

Legion Endorses Pymatuning Dam Project Last Night

DRIVE FOR MEMBERS MAKING PROGRESS

Both United States Senators David A. Reed and James J. Davis and Congressman J. Howard Swick are in hearty accord with the veterans' hospitalization bills now pending before the national congress, according to a statement made Tuesday evening, January 13, by Post Commander Guy J. Wadlinger, at the meeting of Perry S. Gaston post 343 American Legion.

Sometime ago letters were written to the gentlemen named asking their support for the bills and they have assured Commander Wadlinger of their interest and support.

Because of the vital importance of the Pymatuning dam to this district and because the local post of the Legion is interested in anything that promotes progress here, a resolution endorsing the Pymatuning dam project was passed and copies will be sent to Governor Gifford Pinchot and to members of the legislative delegation from this county. A resolution endorsing the proposed $50,000,000 bond issue for state bonuses for veterans of the Spanish and World wars was also passed.

During the evening a color and standard case was presented to the post by Chaplain Earl D. Emerich. The case is of black walnut, well made and fills a long felt want in the post. It is a handsome piece of work and was built by Mr. Emerich.

Senior Vice Commander D. Glenn Berry, who is in charge of the membership drive, urged the members to more activity in getting the old members signed up and new ones on the line and said that while the response thus far had been good, there was need of work if last year's total was to be met.

Following the meeting the K. P. corps consisting of J. Nick Speed, Jack Wilson and William G. Fleming, served a buffet lunch that was appreciated. The assembly room was comfortably filled for the meeting.

DAY OR NIGHT

You're the JUDGE

Edward Spick, traveling salesman for the Red Eye Paint and Furniture company, dropped into the paint store of Kempston and found one of the clerks within. Kempston usually placed the orders himself, but he was not in now and the clerk knew, or thought he knew, all of the lines which were missing. So he gave the order himself. The salesman wrote the order on a blank, signed it, gave one copy to the clerk, but did not ask him to sign it. That night, from his hotel room, Edward sent the copy of the order to his company. Two days later the Red Eye company received the order, and immediately filled it and had it shipped. But that same day Kempston was told about the call Edward made and the order that was given and Kempston at once decided he didn't want any more paint from the Red Eye company. He wrote the company, cancelling his order.

His letter was received two days after the order had been shipped and the Red Eye company so wrote Kempston. Nevertheless, when the paint arrived it was turned back. The Red Eye company sued. At the trial Kempston argued that the order could not have been valid because it did not have the signature of the clerk on it.

slueths from the department of justice who don't even know each other.

The boys who have "muscled in" during recent years are frankly worried. They profess to fear that they are being investigated for:

- (1) The trap you can't beat—Their own quality way of phrasing income tax law violation prosecutions.
- (2) Wholesale and retail dope peddling.
- (3) Mann act violations.
- (4) Bootlegging, with a capital "B."

How long the investigation has been going on—if such investigation actually is in progress—names of the agents engaged in the probe—against whom it is directed—these questions went unanswered today but they provided considerable conjecture and even more uneasiness in certain circles.

Some who proudly claim to be "in the know" assert the investigation had its inception in the 1930 Pittsburgh taxicab strike which left a welter of broken heads, bitterness and even death in its wake. According to this version, imported guerrillas and rangers lured here by the walkout decimated Pittsburgh was a nice "spot" and, when the dove of peace perched over striking drivers and operators, quietly settled down for "business."

Open Up Wedge
There are others who are far from shy in asserting the split between the North Side factions offered the government the opening wedge they had long awaited.

Though versions of the cause of the probe and the manner in which it is being conducted differ widely, there is complete unanimity among "the boys" that the "big shots" will be begging for mercy if orders actually have gone out from "the top" to "put the lid on."

Washington is "the top" to which they refer. In a few days, they point out, the Wickersham committee report will be made public and they are fearful that, far from recommending any change, the report will advocate rigid enforcement of all law, including the eighteenth amendment.

At any rate, there was an unwonted hurrying and scurrying to attorney's offices and to the courts, and hurried conferences among many of "the boys."

Syling said that teachers now take summer school and extension courses, they are well trained and learn nothing at institute, that it costs about $6000 for the one week. "It is a question whether the learning received is worth the time and money." However, he said, as long as we have county institute, he is in favor of the present kind, instead of other kinds that have been suggested.

Superintendent Syling suggested that the money spent annually for institute could be used very well in some of the schools to furnish libraries and laboratory equipment.

Practically all of the directors agreed and the resolution was ordered by the presiding officer, W. H. Helle.

Re-elect Officers.
W. H. Helle of Taylor township was re-elected president of the Lawrence county school directors, as were other officers of 1930—Miss Mary Walker, secretary; B. White of New Wilmington and P. W. Griffin of Bessemer, vice presidents; Wendall P. Ball of Neshaunock township, treasurer, and W. A. Brown of Wampum, auditor.

The re-election was by the unanimous vote of the directors. It followed the reports of the secretary of the various speakers of last year's convention, and the work done. The 1930 convention was held at the same place on January 16 and 17. Mr. Ball reported the expenses of institute and sending a delegate to Harrisburg and numerous other expenses. Next on the program was the address of the president.

"The Lawrence county schools are, in my opinion, 75 or 80 per cent better at the present time than 10 years ago. As a whole, the county schools are in good condition in all ways," stated President W. H. Helle in his address.

A few more consolidations are needed, a little work on some of the schools, and Lawrence county will be 100 per cent in the education system, the speaker said. Several of the rural school buildings are dark and dreary. They need a little paint. Some need more supplies, some stoves and better drinking water.

Mr. Helle spoke of the "teacher problem" and said it was up to the directors to get the right kind of teachers. "There are as many differences between some day and night schools as there are between some teachers and some who are not good teachers and who cannot put across the ideas to their pupils in the right way."

Superintendent Speaks.
County Superintendent of Schools Syling, in his annual report, stated that he had visited all the schools during the year and that he had found them very good, just as the president had stated. He said there are some weak spots. The teachers are always a problem, but that by shifting them around a greater efficiency has been obtained.

Only 20 Lawrence county teachers are without standard certification, whereas Beaver county has 73 without standard certification. Mercer county has 61 and Butler county 70. "Attendance of both teachers and pupils has been exceptionally good in the past year. There was I believe, less sickness than ever before. As a general rule substitute teachers are hard to get. This year just three have been sent out from the office," the report stated.

Concluding his report, Mr. Syling gave the following statement of the number of pupils in each township and borough of Lawrence county:

Beaver, 236; Little Beaver, 115; North Beaver, 405; Bessemer borough, 375; Chewton Independent, 221; Edinburg Independent, 193; Ellport borough, 263; Enon Valley borough, 409; Hickory, 414; Mahoning, 261; Neshaunock, 407; New Wilmington borough, 122; Perry, 229; Plainville, 193; Pulaski, 374; Scott, 160; Shenango, 503; Slippery Rock, 344; South New Castle borough, 295; Taylor, 237; Union, 518; Volant, 79; Wampum, 177; Washington, 77; Wayne, 364; Wilmington, 176.

The above is just the elementary students, and make a total of 7,802. The morning session was concluded by an address by W. E. Wenner superintendent of schools of Ashtabula, Ohio, on the subject "Our Immediate Program in Education."

Convention will end on Thursday evening.

STAR LORE

WHERE THE SUN REIGNS AMONG THE STARS IN NORTHERN SUMMER

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter

The second great seasonal area on the celestial sphere extends from the sixth hour meridian to the twelfth hour meridian R. A. (Right Ascension). It is the summer area because it is where the sun is during our summer season north of the equator. The sixth hour meridian is that one located at the Summer Solstice and the twelfth hour one is that located at the Autumnal Equinox. There the sun crosses the equator Sept. 23 in its journey southward, and autumn begins. When the sun reaches the twelfth hour meridian of R. A. it has traversed one-half of the circuit of the celestial sphere.

ing his first term as Governor and that from then they have become intimate friends.

Col. Davis is married and has one son George A. Davis, of Scranton, who was here for announcement of the appointment.

The post assigned today to Col. Davis has been held since October 4, 1917 by Frank D. Beary of Allentown, who was first appointed to the office by the late Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh.

Almost Saw Service
Near the close of the conference today which resulted in the appointment of Col. Davis, the newly named Adjutant General asked whether he knew that he was to be the Adjutant of the regiment which the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt was planning to organize and take overseas during the World war.

"Did you know that I was to be a Lieutenant Colonel in the same regiment?" asked the Governor-elect. "The answer of the men shook hands having learned that they had almost seen service together in the war."

Appointment of Davis was the fifth announced by the Governor-elect within the past two days.

She was given medical attention, and it was found that she had broken her ankle. She will be confined to her bed for six weeks and possibly longer.

Big Anti-Trust Suit Is Argued

Supreme Court Hears Appeal Of 49 Oil Companies On Lower Court's Ruling

DECLARE SHERMAN LAW UNVIOLATED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—One of the biggest anti-trust suits in years was argued before the Supreme Court today in the appeal of 49 oil companies from a lower court decision declaring their pooling plan of "cracked gasoline" patents a violation of the Sherman law.

Because of the vast importance of the case which brought before the court some of the nation's foremost lawyers, five hours was allotted for the oral argument.

Need Final Decision
The government charges that the primary defendants Standard Oil of Indiana, Texas Co., Gasoline Products Company and Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey—with "seeking to restrain and monopolize interstate and foreign commerce in gasoline and other petroleum products, and to realize huge profits by extorting from all manufacturers of 'cracked gasoline' large sums in the guise of royalties."

Along with the "primary" defendants, 45 other corporations are named in the order issued by a three-judge federal court in Chicago.

The oil companies, led by the Standard Oil of Indiana, which claimed to hold the original patents for "cracked gasoline," contended they have pooled patents to end confusion in the industry and give minor oil companies a chance to share in the benefits of the "cracking" patents.

The case was advanced for early hearing by the court on the plea of the oil companies that confusion will exist until there is a final decision.

Dr. Jos. A. Vance Addresses Large Audience Tuesday

The services being held each night this week in the First Presbyterian church are being well attended to hear Dr. Joseph A. Vance, noted Detroit minister expound the scripture.

He spoke Tuesday evening on "The Call of God" and the points emphasized were first, "God's Call." The Answer: "What God can do for Man, and fourth, What Man can do for God."

Dr. Vance is a clear speaker, a forceful orator, a profound thinker and his striking fund of illustrations adds an unusual element to his messages.

This evening his theme will be, "God's Everlasting Love."

Castle jail, as Francis Desmond has been here for some time. To get Sanders or Senkert and Reno into it was necessary for the officers named to go to Columbus, O., to get extradition papers. Leaving here Sunday evening they drove through a snow storm most of the way, arriving in Columbus Monday morning.

Arriving in Columbus they found that the inauguration of Governor George White was about to commence and were forced to wait until he was installed before they could get the necessary papers. Signing the extradition papers of the men was the first official act of the new executive.

Information is held against Sanders and Reno in the office of Alderman W. E. Marshall. They will be given preliminary hearings later.

politics, but the presence of a large number of Democratic leaders, and the fact that the speech was broadcast over a National Radio hook-up of some thirty stations attested to the national political interest in it.

Gov. Ritchie took the oath of office in the historic old Capitol building where 14 years ago George Washington relinquished command of the Continental Army. Only a handful of people heard Gen. Washington's words on that occasion, but today the words of Gov. Ritchie were carried to the furthestmost parts of the country from the same chamber.

Erie County To Start Repairing Of Ancient Jail

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Jan. 14.—County officials today were availing estimates from a Cleveland firm for completing repairs at the Erie county jail, in accordance with a request from Warden Matt Hess.

Harvey M. Willis, chairman of the purchasing committee of the Erie county prison board, accompanied a representative of the Ohio firm on a recent inspection of the jail when certain necessary repairs were pointed out.

In the event that the contract is awarded to the Cleveland firm, only Erie and union labor will be permitted to work on the building, county officials said.

GOLDEN WEDDING EVENT OBSERVED

Later in which they are held by the many people who have known them at various times and places throughout the long period of their life, was evidenced in a most pleasant way on Tuesday, January 13, 1931, when Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flanagin of 113 East street, observed the fiftieth or golden anniversary of their marriage at Pulaski, Lawrence county, at their home, surrounded by the members of their immediate family.

Beginning at an early hour in the morning and continuing throughout the day they were the recipients of congratulatory telegrams, cards and personal greetings of those with whom they had been associated in years past and at the present.

In the early morning, a telegram was received from a niece in California and later in the day another from a former neighbor now in Cleveland. The cards came in by the hundred and were still being received today, including those from former pastors of the First Christian church and their wives.

Scores of persons called upon them to extend their personal greetings. The home was a bower of beauty due to the many beautiful flowers presented to them. They were also the recipients of many gifts of gold.

At noon, a dinner was served at which the members of their family were present. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by both Mr. and Mrs. Flanagin and all those who participated in the occasion.

B. B. Club

Mrs. Irvine Gibson of Euclid avenue was a pleasing hostess in her home Tuesday when she entertained at the regular meeting of the B. B. Club members. Ten were present and one guest, Mrs. David Prosser. The leisure hours were spent with fancywork, radio music and chat. At a selected hour the hostess served a tempting lunch, aided by her daughter, Mrs. Howard Shoff.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Harry Lach, Franklin avenue in two weeks.

QUOTA CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Tuesday evening in the Green Room of the Y. M. C. A. members of the Quota Club gathered for their regular dinner event. A delicious menu was served at 6 o'clock at tables prettily decorated in the seasons tones.

Later, a business session was called, and the annual election of officers occurred with the following results: President, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams; first vice president, Gladys Rich; second vice president, Rozella Popp; third vice president, Marjorie Cortes; treasurer, Kathryn Hite; secretary, Martha Biele; directors, Mrs. Gaila Keagy and Mrs. Mable Sprague.

The club will meet again in two weeks, marking their next regular session.

NEW AGE GROUP TO HEAR BOOK REVIEW

The New Age Group members held the regular meeting in the parlors of the Leslie Monday evening, Jan. 12, at the usual hour. An interesting report of Dr. Edward McCollum's course was given by several members of his class.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Jan. 26, when Mrs. Ruth L. Wright will give a book review as the feature, and the eighth lesson in the study course will also be taken up at this time.

Surprise Shower

Mrs. E. D. Slight, of Spring street, delightfully entertained a large group of friends in her home Monday evening, as a courtesy to Mrs. James Butera of the Youngstown road. Mrs. Butera, a bride of recent date, will be remembered as Miss Martha Cearross. She was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts. Games, music and dancing filled the evening hours and bridge was an interesting diversion. Prizes were awarded Miss Helen Bohen and Miss Elizabeth Hink. The hostess, assisted by Miss Ella Slight, served a delicious lunch.

ANNA MAXINE KENNEDY ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Miss Anna Maxine Kennedy was a pleasing little hostess to a group of friends in her home on Euclid avenue Tuesday evening, when she entertained at an informal bridge in honor of Miss Isabelle Van Nort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Van Nort who with her parents will move to Pittsburgh to make their home in the very near future.

The occasion which proved a complete surprise to the guests of honor, was in progress at an early hour, with cards forming the chief entertainment. Lovely favors for the hosts were awarded to the Misses Mary Elizabeth Norris and Emily Reynolds.

Later, a dainty repast was served by the hostess grandmother, Mrs. B. M. Prosser, and Miss Naomi June Kennedy. Pastel hues were attractively used in the menu details. At the close of the evening the guest of honor was given a shower of many beautiful handkerchiefs as a token of the esteem and affection of which she is held.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER HONORS RECENT BRIDE

Honoring Mrs. Paul White, a recent bride, Mrs. Albert Ecklund entertained at a surprise miscellaneous shower, given at the home of Mrs. Catharine Haug on Huey street.

The hours were spent delightfully with music, dancing and games. Prizes were won by Miss Annabelle Morrissey, Mrs. Ruth Lutz, Mrs. Anna Daniels and Miss Mary Greer. Later in the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Haug and Miss Nellie Scott. Color tones of green and white were carried out in the appointments.

The guest of honor who was formerly Miss Carolyn Winter was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

D. E. BRIDGE CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. Harvey Boeber, of Garfield avenue, received in her home Tuesday evening, associates of the D. E. Bridge Club, and Mrs. Jack Conn, who was a special guest.

After a game of progressive bridge had been enjoyed, the prizes for honors were awarded to Mrs. Howard Gilmore, Mrs. Ray Horsman and Mrs. Jack Conn. A dainty collation served by the hostess at the small tables which were re-arranged in an array of colorful hues, brought the evening to a close.

In three weeks Mrs. Jack Evans of West Cherry street will be hostess to the club.

W. M. L. H. Club

Miss Eleanor Thomas of 926 Winslow avenue was a pleasing hostess to members of the W. M. L. H. Club in her home Tuesday evening. A business session was called, with Freda Ungar presiding as chairman. Officers for 1931 were elected at this time.

Following a social period, a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her sister Jane. Pastel tones predominated in the menu appointments and details.

On Tuesday January 27 Miss Viola Pregenzar of East Washington street will entertain the club in her home.

Bridge Club of '31

Mrs. Roy Beals, Moody avenue, delightfully entertained Tuesday evening at bridge, two tables being in play. During the course of the evening it was decided to organize the group into a club and a name.

At the close of play a program of music was enjoyed and the hostess served dainty refreshments.

The club will be entertained January 27 in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Bird, Wilmington avenue.

RED CROSS RELIEF APPEAL

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S letter to John Barton Payne, approving the appeal of the Red Cross for a fund of $10,000,000 for the benefit of the drought victims, is not only wise and humane in itself; it may be the means of solving the vexed question of relieving the destitute in the states particularly affected.

As a matter of fact, while the politicians in Washington have been orating the agents of the Red Cross have actually been at work in the needy sections, distributing relief and doing all in their power to help the helpless. The funds for this have come from a reserve of $5,000,000 from which the society has been drawing since last fall. At the time there was an understanding between President Hoover and Judge Payne that when winter came there would be an appeal, if necessary, for more funds to carry on the urgent work. Hence the formal proclamation, issued yesterday is part of a well-planned and well-considered programme.

The orderly and systematic manner in which this work has been carried on is the best possible argument for giving more money with which to keep it going. The reserve fund of the Red Cross is nearing exhaustion. The amount requested should be promptly subscribed by the American people.

President Hoover points out that the cities, as a rule, have organized to meet the present emergency. But in rural drought-stricken sections the people are so prostrated from their repeated misfortunes that they are without the power to help themselves. In this situation the Red Cross steps in to furnish the kind of help that could scarcely come from any other source.

The president has acted with unerring wisdom in turning to the American Red Cross for assistance in a great crisis. The issue is lifted far above the plane of petty politics. It should result in an immediate and generous response from the people who have never yet failed to respond to the call of the less fortunate.

STUPIDITY IN CENSORSHIP

Stupid censorship has turned what at first seemed a glorious adventure and magnificent achievement into a near fiasco. When will fascist Italy and the other nations which seek to suppress and doctor news learn that censors are notoriously apt at stupidity and that censorship ever proves a boomerang?

Had the disasters at Bolana, in which five members of Gen. Italo Balbo's trans-atlantic air expedition lost their lives, been reported to the world in all their details and without delay by censorship, they would have heightened the dangers of the flight and accentuated the achievement of the successful planes.

But the facts were withheld from the outside world for 48 hours—the censorship apparently being timed to lift after the victorious airman had been acclaimed—and now the world is left to wonder what the fascist government was afraid of that it could not truthfully report its own great adventure.

Censorship has placed emphasis upon a partial failure, whereas the larger success should hold the stage. A bungling move has done no service either to the dead fliers or to those who spanned an ocean to prove the worth of flying machines and flying men.

DAYS ARE LONGER!

It's a long drink until the first swallow returns, but a few minutes more daylight in the morning and a few minutes more in the evening turn the thoughts of the winter-weary to spring and the hoe and outdoor miniature golf.

Already the rumbling of the annual battle over daylight saving can be heard, with the golfers arrayed on one side and the hay pitchers on the other. With these arch adversaries a lengthening day is like a treasury surplus to pork-barrel congressmen.

Now is the time to try out the power of suggestion. And if repeating, "day by day the days are getting longer and business better," accomplishes nothing worth while, keeping pace with the days by working a little longer and harder will.

There is something calm and peaceful and comforting about "melancholy days," but if the world were to take a vote on the matter the long day and short night would win by acclamation.

Perhaps the reason for this partiality is that when daylight begins to linger a little in the evening man knows by instinct that the fish soon will begin to bite, things begin to grow, and baseball players go South.

NOT DEFUNCT YET

Like the rest of the world, the United States has felt the depression of 1930.

But a country that with 6 per cent of the world's population consumes 15 per cent of the world's wheat crop is not ready to go to the bonnyard.

A quarter of the world's sugar is consumed in the United States.

We use half of the coffee.

We use a quarter of the cotton and one-sixth of the wool.

Two-thirds of the world's rubber is used here and three-quarters of the silk.

Nearly 40 per cent of the iron, copper, lead, zinc and coal is employed in the United States.

We use about three-fifths of the world's petroleum, three-fifths of the telephones, and 75 per cent of the automobiles.

The average family income in the United States, according to government figures, is about $3000. The British income is only two-thirds of that figure. Canada's is less than half and Sweden's still less. The average of French and German incomes is only about a third of that in the United States.

We have our depression, but, materially, we are still doing fairly well.—The Portland Oregon Journal

Human nature is that way. When a man is wrong he usually tries to dodge the blame by thinking the whole universe is wrong.

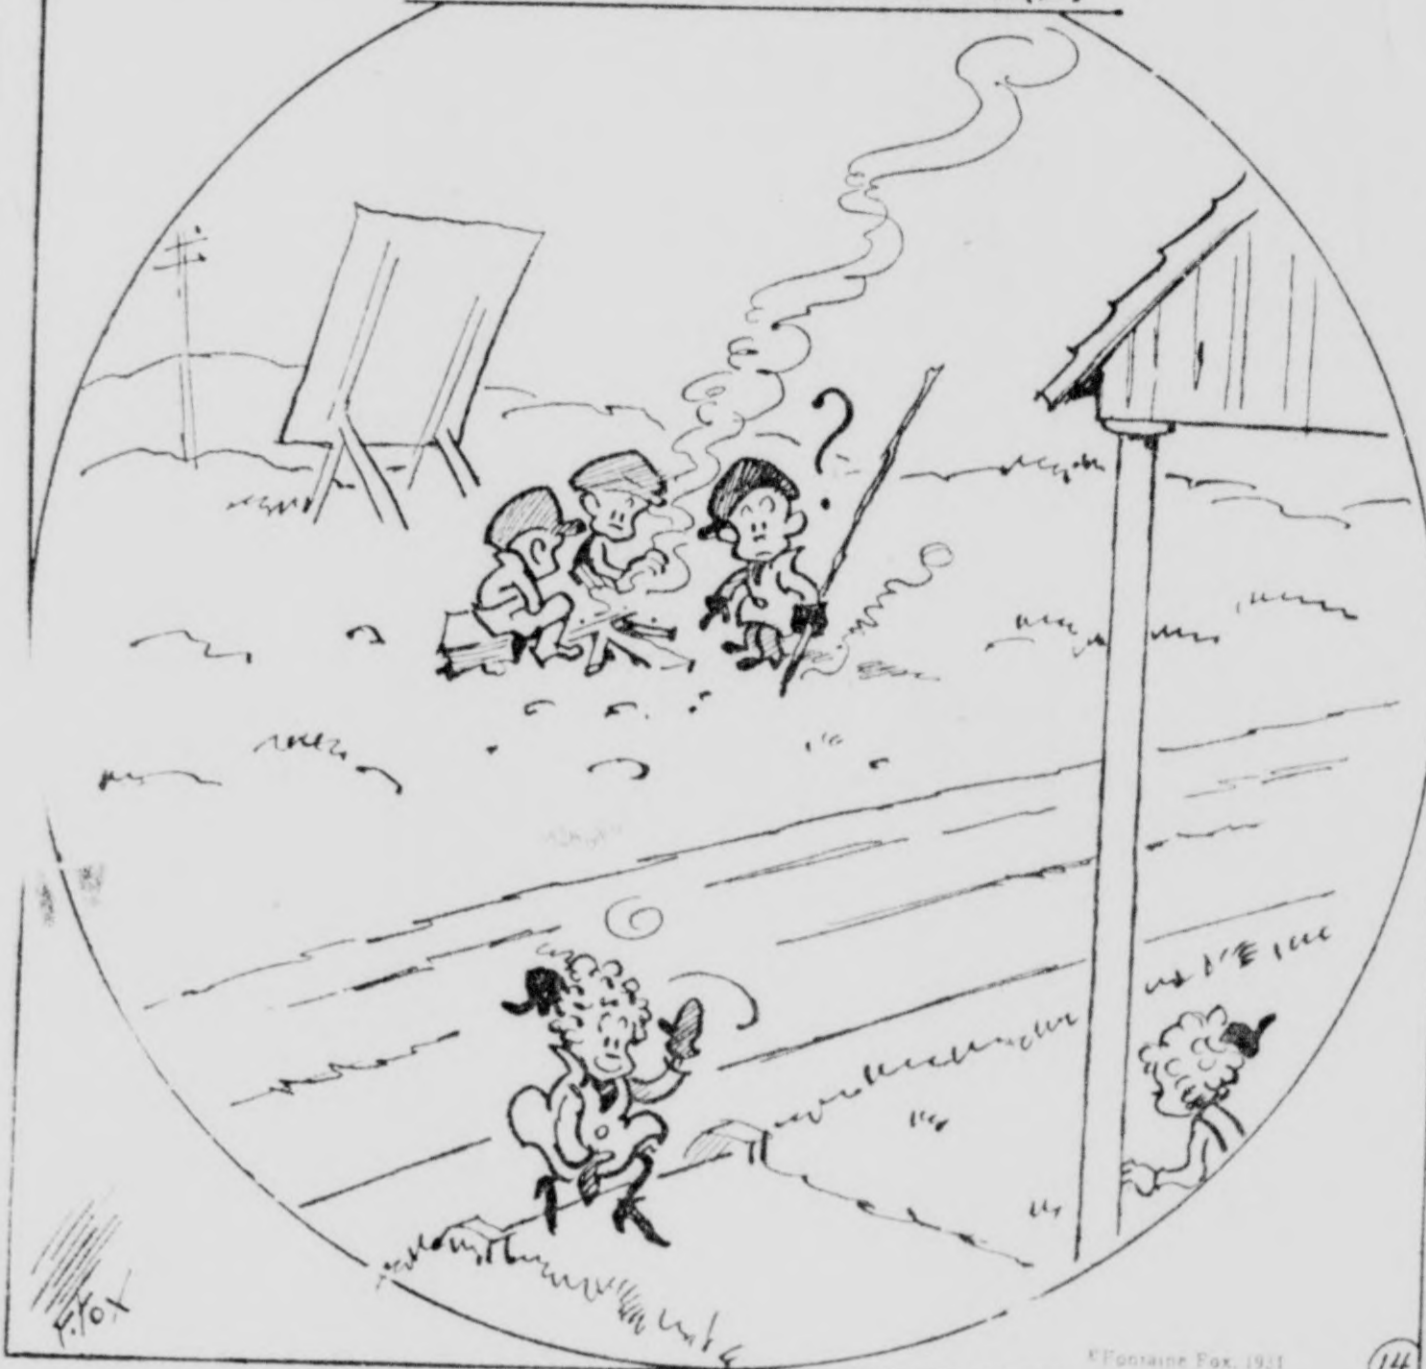

Another engrossing spectacle in a great democracy is the political leaders catching up from time to time with his followers.

I'M NOT DISAPPOINTED

A nice old lady in Fanwood, New Jersey, wrote me a letter. I don't know her; she doesn't know me, but she read something of mine in the Plainfield Courier News, and—being kind—she wrote me that letter. She said: "Your article on old age interested me because I am a young woman 83 years old. My two grown-up daughters are my chums and companions. I imagine you are disappointed I'm not a young girl in love with your face."

Wise old lady, you've made a mistake. I'd rather hear from you than from a young girl in love with your face. You know what you're talking about, you've been around in life, you've seen things and thought about them and you've weathered the storms. I'd rather sit and talk to you and learn something.

Though I can't imagine a lot of things, I can't imagine any young girl in love with my face. I've lived with that face for quite a few years, and I've seen it in a considerable number of mirrors. Thousands of young girls have seen it, too; none of them, as far as I can remember, ever turned around to look at me as I passed. I'm not a Snappy Article, they know. I'm not—and I don't mind. I like to look at them, of course, but they're not interested in me—and that's perfectly all right. They have other dates, more important business to be attending to in this world, and they know best.

Maybe they know that I'd rather be talking to you, Mrs. Ellen Beardsley of Fanwood, than to any of them, and that puts their pretty little noses out of joint. The idea of anybody preferring an old lady to them!

But you were a young girl yourself once, in love, too, and you know what they're like. I have two small ones of my own and there are times when I tremble for the future. They'll be too much for me, I'm sure. They'll twist me around their little fingers and I'm afraid I'll like it. Those young girls, so charming, so arrogant, so busy going places and seeing things, aren't Grown Up yet. They pretend to be, they're full of Big Ideas, but they're just tumbling along, hoping for something to cling to in the fog. Their Boy Friends are like that, too—just as cocky, just as wisecracking, just as blundering.

But you are different. You've lived long enough to have a young heart. You are free, you are wise and you smile. The world doesn't frighten you any more. New ideas don't upset you. You are amused at the young folks, but you feel tender toward them, they're their troubles. And I'm thinking you were the life of the party on Christmas Day. I'm a mind reader and I learned all these from your short letter and I'm NOT disappointed because you're not "a young girl in love with my face." I'm flattered. I wish you'd write again.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HE DOES THINGS

Sir Henry Thompson, President of the Canadian National Railways, has caused a new type of railroad office to be opened in New York.

There is no conventional counter to keep inquiring passengers at a respectful distance. A large room crisscrossed in the character of a drawing room is the main booking office. Its walls are large panels of English and American oak, and its floor is teak wood inlaid with ebony strips. A daylight effect is obtained in the side walls by means of artificial windows illuminated by reflector lights back of the glass.

Outside, extending the entire height of two stories, are window surfaces of plate glass and carved glass set in bronze frames separated by gray marble pillars. Various scenes along the railway's lines are depicted. They are brightly illuminated at night.

Roosevelt Renews Interest In Local Government Needs

Demand By New York Governor In Inaugural Address For Greater Participation By Voters Is Echoed Throughout Country

The statement of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, in his inaugural address in New York, that "the individual citizen is indifferent to the local government problems," seems to have struck a responsive chord in many sections of the country, and editorial comments agree with his viewpoint.

"Your average citizen doesn't take his citizenship duties very seriously nor does he interest himself in the conduct of public affairs until he feels the pinch of taxation or suffers from some failure of municipal or governmental machinery," says the RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER, "then he wants something done about it. He wants reforms, but he is in a fine frame of mind to champion anything different." The UTICA OBSERVER DISPATCH, in Roosevelt's own State, says: "Governor Roosevelt has thus given an impressive help in what appears an almost hopeless effort to rouse a deep, active and continued interest in local governments."

"Municipalities and states are corporations but they are not run on business methods," declares the ALBANY EVENING NEWS which continues, "remarking: 'A board of directors made up of good business men could find ways of saving money without curtailing the necessary and advisable expenses. In these same business men pay little attention to the problems of government. Government is left too much to politicians. Here is one American weakness. And that weakness can be corrected by the substantial men of each community.'" concludes The News.

In the opinion of the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "free government is now going through one of the most acute tests it has ever subjected to in this country, this because of changing custom in the electorate. If the quality of the electorate does not improve in the next twenty years," this paper sees "real cause for alarm." As a remedy, it suggests raising "public thinking by the process of education and self-restraint. Local self-government is an ideal and a privilege," it asserts, "and if the people default in making use of it, by neglecting to take an interest and leaving the management of their affairs to small politicians, it loses its virtue. To this there must be an awakening if our democracy is to function without decline," it concludes.

Containing that "it is easier for crooks and combinations of crooks to control local government than it is for them to control larger-scale government," because the nature of the national government, the character of the national government as communities, municipalities

Italian League Hears Address By City Solicitor

Puts Into Effect New Policy Based On Original Ideals Of Organization

EXPECTED TO BE BIG CIVIC FORCE

At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Italian American Citizens League held Tuesday evening in the hall of St. Vitus parish church, a new policy based on the original ideals and conception of the organization was put into effect, namely that of making it a real force for civic advancement in the community, was put into effect and will be continued in the future, in the belief that it will mean the advancement of the interests of the entire community and not those of the organization alone.

There was a good attendance of the directors of the organization and the meeting was called to order by Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., chairman of the board of directors and president of the league, who announced the inauguration of the new policy of the organization, stating that in the future it was proposed to have prominent speakers at each meeting of the directors who would speak on subjects of a non-political nature and of civic and vital interest to the community, in order that the organization might become an active civic force in the community for the advancement of the city in all phases of its daily life. The change was being made to bring the organization to a closer realization of the ideals on which it was founded, he said, that of bringing the Italian American to a closer realization of the responsibilities of citizenship in the land of their birth or adoption, as the case might be, and make it possible for the directors to carry back to the rank and file of the organization those things that would be for the benefit of all and not for themselves alone.

The guest speaker of the evening was City Solicitor R. M. White, who made a most interesting and helpful address, basing his remarks on the writings of Titus Patavinus Livius, usually known as Livy, a noted Roman Historian, who lived 59 B. C. to A. D. 17.

This writer, Mr. White said, showed how even in the earliest times in Rome, there had been people of Rome who believed in temperance. Among these had been Scipio, famous Roman General, who had abstained from drink in order that he might be better than other leaders of his day.

Then there was Cincinnatus, who was an example of unselfishness and temperate habits, who dropped his plow when Rome was in danger, went out and led his people to victory and then returned to his plow.

Attorney White then warned those present against a certain habit existing among certain individuals for the purpose of exploiting the members of their own race. He registered a plea for toleration and closed his remarks with the plea that the league and its members support those candidates for office that were fit and able to fulfill the duties of the office to which they sought election and to see to it, that when these candidates were elected that they were fair to all and not alone to any one group of the citizens of the community.

Solicitor White was accorded a rising vote of thanks for his remarks, when they were concluded. The directors present at the meeting were Attorney Joseph Leta Jr., president; Mike Covelli, vice-president; Carl Scungio, secretary; Joseph A. Ciotto, Nick George, Patsy Micco, Joseph Noera, Anthony Villani, John Mastrangelo, Andy Masters, Mike Fazzone, Joseph Paglia, H. A. Fazzone, Ralph Pia, A. T. Venditto, Mario Frabotta, Salvatore Bassano, Nick Mastrangelo, Anthony Basile, Tony Cioffi, Fred P. Farone, Dr. Warren V. Massaro. Special guests of the occasion were H. K. Bell and Charles E. Lyle.

The Italian American Citizens League has been in existence for eight years. Its founder was Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church, who is an honorary chairman of the organization at the present time. It was founded by Father DeMita and those associated with him for the purpose of advancing American Citizenship among those of Italian birth or parentage. The directors of the organization meet regularly on the second Tuesday night of each month.

(International News Service)
COLUMBIA, Pa., Jan. 14.—Lieut. Governor-elect Edward W. Shannon today was the proud possessor of a gavel made from wood taken from the Mount Bethel House, oldest building in Columbia, which was razed recently to make way for the new Lancaster-York county bridge.

The gavel was presented to the new lieutenant-governor by 400 of his fellow citizens here last night at a testimonial dinner attended by representatives of all the civic and fraternal organizations of the borough.

Senate Committee Probes Funds For Klan Publication

Nye Committee Goes After Records Showing Who Paid For Klan Publication

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Nye senatorial committee's investigation into activities of the Republican organization in various states during last fall's campaign, took a new turn today as committee investigators sought to identify one Robert M. Estes, who is credited with paying for distribution of the "Fellowship Forum" Ku Klux Klan publication, in Kentucky.

Testimony before the committee yesterday disclosed that special editions of the Klan organ had been sent into Alabama and Kentucky. Sen. Heflin (D) of Alabama, paid for the issue sent to his state, according to the records of the Independent Publishing Co., here, which sent to Kentucky was ordered by former Senator Robison (R) of that state. Both were defeated for re-election last fall.

Chairman Nye (R) of North Dakota, questioned J. Matt Chilton, Republican national committeeman concerning any knowledge he had as to Robert M. Estes revealed as the one who had paid $2,000 out of a total of $3,375 received by the Independent Publishing Co. for the Klan publication.

I know of a man by that name who is deputy commissioner of internal revenue," Chilton said. "But I do not know if it is the same man who paid for the forum job."

Nye, indicating he would probably subpoena deputy commissioner Estes, interjected for the record: "It is a very serious offense against the corrupt practices act if the Estes who paid the bill is in the internal revenue bureau."

The special editions sent to Kentucky and Alabama injected religion and racial prejudices into the campaigns, according to the testimony of F. H. Creech, a committee investigator.

Engineers Society To Install Officers

Meeting Will Be Held On Monday—Water Resources To Be Theme

The regular meeting of the Engineers Society of New Castle will be held in the Lecture and Assembly room of the Penn. Power Co. at 8:00 p. m. Monday, January 19, at which time the officers and directors elected for the ensuing year will be inducted into office.

In addition to the official business of the association which will be transacted at this time, the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the water needs of New Castle and adjacent communities located in the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango valleys.

The water needs of this district are two fold: the need of the completion of the Pymatuning Dam in order that a sufficient water supply may be had for municipal and industrial purposes in the Shenango Valley and also that future floods, similar to those which occurred in 1913 and other years, may be prevented; and also that this district may be given a transportation connection in order that a transportation connection may be made by water to the Ohio River and thence to all parts of the Nation's Inland Waterways System, thereby reducing the cost of delivery of raw materials to our industries and provide a reduction of transportation costs on our finished products that are consumed in other portions of our country and in foreign countries.

Secretary Alfred W. Chilton of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce will talk on what has been accomplished on these projects during the past year.

Seek To Lower Water Rates In East Liverpool

(International News Service)
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 14.—Safety Service Director John W. Moore today had before him for action the request of the city solons to place in immediate effect a 10 per cent reduction of the municipal water rates.

Councilman George A. Hughes, sponsor of the demand, told his colleagues at a meeting last night that "the charges in East Liverpool are higher than in any other place in the United States."

Under council's motion Moore is called upon to prepare a revision of the meter and flat rates, both in effect in East Liverpool.

Don't waste your time. You'll need it all before you die.

To be a HEALTHY WOMAN watch your Bowels!

WHAT should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients. It doesn't sicken or weaken you. But its action is thorough. It carries off the sour bile and poisonous waste. It does everything you want it to do. It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Give some to keep little bowels open during colds.

When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all druggists keep it ready in big bottles) and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

Andree Expedition Story Voted Best News Story By Journalists

Westminster Students Ballot On Outstanding News Stories

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 14.—The finding of the Andree Polar Expedition remains was voted the outstanding news story of 1936 by students in the class in journalism at Westminster College yesterday. The Andree expedition story received 17 of 27 votes.

The outstanding news personality during 1936, according to the student journalists, was Bobby Jones, golf champion. Charles A. Lindbergh was second to Jones. The outstanding news story of an event in eastern United States was the Ohio State prison fire. This story also was classed as the second greatest news story of the year by the class.

Other news stories which received votes were: the return of King Carol to the Roumanian throne, unemployment relief measures, the Notre Dame football team, the Naval Air, the trans-Atlantic flight of Coste and Bellonte, and the loss of the R-101.

Stories of achievement were thought of highest interest by the majority of the students in the class, though stories of disaster and stories dealing with discovery and received many votes. News of the unexpected class rather than that which may be predicted was designated by the students as being better.

Asked if they thought that sports and athletic events were overemphasized in American newspapers during 1936, 23 voted "No" and only four voted "Yes."

Some reasons given by the students for selecting the Andree Expedition story as the outstanding one for 1936 were: It cleared up a mystery of 30 years. There was only one chance in a million that the remains would ever be found, so the unexpected element was great. Because of its bearing on future scientific knowledge and Polar exploration.

Students in the class in journalism who voted on the news are: Ruth Kutscher, Bellevue; James Smalley, Elizabeth; Glenn Rehfs, Sandusky, O.; Mary Alice Neill, Canonsburg; Meredith Irons, Pittsburgh; Olive Mills, Bellevue; Ada Cheswick; Dorothy Prosser, Carnegie; Leon Hildebrand, Canton, O.; Harry Brownlee, Lock Haven; Alice Rowse, Beaver; William Armour, Sharon; Louis Peresny, Turtle Creek; Daniel Considine, Akron, O.; Russell Boone, Turtle Creek; and David Morrison, Elizabeth.

More Airports Are Established In Last Half Year

Increase Of Nine In Pennsylvania Shown By National Aeronautics Report

By ARTHUR C. WIMER

Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—There were nine more airports and landing fields in existence in Pennsylvania on December 31, 1936, than there were on July 15, 1936, the date of the last compilation, according to the aeronautics branch, department of commerce, in a report just made public by Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics. On December 31, there were 94 airports and landing fields in Pennsylvania, while on July 15, there were only 85.

The list compiled by the aeronautics branch that on December 31, 1936, there were in Pennsylvania 10 municipal, 47 commercial, 28 intermediate, seven auxiliary, one army and one navy airports and landing fields. On July 15, there were nine municipal, 39 commercial, 24 intermediate, 11 auxiliary, one army and one navy airports and landing fields in the Keystone State.

Those fields established by towns or cities are classified as municipal, and those established by private commercial interests are classed as commercial airports. Intermediate landing fields are established and maintained by the department of commerce on the federal airways, and are marked and equipped with lights and other air navigation facilities. Auxiliary fields include those which are established and marked locally in some manner for the use of aircraft, but do not have the standard of equipment and facilities as other types.

Rainfall Relieves Drought Situation

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Howard E. Moses, assistant engineer of the Department of Health, said today the recent rainfall has at least temporarily eliminated the drought conditions in the various portions of the state which have been thus affected.

"Reports are being received from the various district engineering offices throughout the commonwealth indicating that the recent heavy rains have somewhat temporarily alleviated the drought situation which has been more or less continuous since last spring," Moses said. "However, the motorized laboratory equipment which is being used for the purpose of examining auxiliary supplies will remain in the field and continue activities until the situation has definitely cleared up. This will not occur until there have been a number of heavy rains."

Peter's Adventures

LIVELY OFFERS TO GUIDE

Commander was a wise old man, but he didn't see through Peter. The boy's praise of her home went straight to his heart. At that moment she would have granted Peter any wish he asked for.

"Can you take a walk? Why, certainly, my dear fellow!" The Commander patted Peter. "It is only right you should find out all the truth about us. We are a great race, if I do say it myself, and if you keep your eyes and ears open you will agree with me on that subject. The more you see and the more you hear, the better satisfied you will be that you deserted the Blacks to join the Redskin army. I'd ramble around with you if I were not so tired. Dear me, now I come to think about it, I can scarcely stay awake or keep my head from nodding."

"Don't try dear. Mistress. Take your daily nap and then you will feel better," suggested Lively. "And while you are napping I will show the boy about if you will let me."

"Let you! I should say so! Lively, you have taken a load off my shoulders. Be off with the two of you, now! Have a good time and don't be in a hurry to come back. I shall not want anything for a long time."

"But your lunch, Mistress. I forgot that!"

"I don't wish any. I'm not hungry. Besides, after a snooze I can eat twice as much!"

"Very well Mistress." Lively hooked a claw in Peter's arm and the two were just starting off when Commander hailed them.

These days when a rigidly economical housewife is frequently a necessity, how to assure maximum health and food value at the least cost is an important problem. A greater use of cereal foods as lunch and supper dishes, as well as for breakfast, is one way to solve it.

Enforcement Work Is Speeded Up In State Last Month

Increase In Activity Is Noted In Pennsylvania According To Report

By ARTHUR C. WIMER

Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—In line with the trend in the country as a whole, federal prohibition enforcement activity was greater in Pennsylvania during December than in the previous month, according to a report of the month's work just made public by the bureau of prohibition.

During December, 116 arrests were made by federal agents in enforcing the prohibition law in Pennsylvania, as compared with only 102 such arrests in November. Cases held by United States commissioners also jumped from 71 in November to 83 last month, and 196 cases were placed on the docket through informations and indictments in December as against 142 in November.

There was also great acceleration in the number of cases terminated during the month, from 32 in November to 227 in December. Of the cases finally acted upon last month, 256 ended in convictions, 16 in acquittals, and five were nolle prossed. There were 244 pleas of guilty and 28 jury trials.

One hundred and forty-three jail sentences were imposed last month in the state, compared with 16 in November. The amount of fines for prohibition violations also jumped considerably, from $5,101 to $39,145.

As with arrests, seizures by federal prohibition agents of illicit apparatus increased in Pennsylvania, although liquor seizures fell off. Such confiscations in December included 25 automobiles, 23 stills and distilleries, 29 beer fermenters, 10,382 gallons of beer, and 1,661 gallons of spirits. During the previous month 15 machines, 24 stills and distilleries, 88 beer fermenters, 226,668 gallons of beer, and 12,329 gallons of spirits were taken.

TALK POSSIBILITY OF REORGANIZING LOCAL S. S. COUNCIL GROUP

Tentative plans for the revitalization of the New Castle Young People's Sunday School council, inactive for some time, were talked over when the Rev. E. H. Bonsall, Jr., state secretary of young people's work from Philadelphia, met with leaders of the council here Tuesday evening.

Dr. T. J. McFate, acting superintendent of the council and the Rev. D. C. Schnebly, president of the local ministerial association were among those present.

Folk who a year ago were dismayed to discover that the digits in 1936 added up to 13, are horrified to observe that 31 backwards is also the hoodoo number.

"And now I know the easiest way to make children take cod-liver oil," said Ann's happy mother

WOULDN'T you like to discover it, too—the way to banish your children's "ugh's"—the way to make them take their cod-liver oil willingly? Listen!

A few weeks ago the Scott's Emulsion reporter walked into Mrs. Edward Curran's cozy living room at 232 Greenwich Ave., Stamford, Conn., where her little daughter, Ann, was playing.

We asked Mrs. Curran if she'd let Ann try Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil. Since she appreciated how children dread plain cod-liver oil, she consented gladly.

Ann, pictured here, then took some Scott's Emulsion. Instantly she smiled. "Oooh, it's nice, I like it!" she said.

Pleasanter to take—but that isn't all

Pale, thin, run-down children—they need cod-liver oil. Give it to them the pleasantest way—give them Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion hasn't that strong "fishy" taste. It doesn't upset delicate stomachs. It brings you purest, Norwegian cod-liver oil in its pleasantest form—a perfect emulsion. Easier to take—easier to digest. You get more good out of Scott's Emulsion and you feel the benefits quicker.

Scott's Emulsion is rich in vitamin A, the growth-promoting vitamin that helps prevent disease. It is rich in vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin that prevents rickets. It also contains vital mineral elements that aid in forming sound bones and teeth. This gives Scott's Emulsion a special advantage for growing children, infants, nursing and expectant mothers. Get Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil today at your druggist's. Watch cheeks grow rosy. See youngsters gain new sturdiness.

NEW ROAD MARKING IS TRIED BY STATE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—The Pennsylvania Department of Highways is experimenting with a new style of lettering on pavement marking and warning signs painted on road surfaces. The new letters are nearly eight feet in height, but much narrower than before. Motorists have remarked upon better legibility, but have failed to note any difference in the size of the letters. This is explained by engineers as due to the angle at which the driver observes the marking. The larger size is clearly seen when the observer stands on the pavement near the marking.

GAS relieved

WHAT most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All drug stores—25c and 50c.

File Suit To Recover Huge Bonuses Paid Bethlehem Officials

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 14.—Vice-Chancellor John H. Backs today granted a rule directing officers and directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation to show cause why they should not grant the application of four stockholders that the sum of $36,493,668, paid in bonuses to officers and directors, past and present, be restored to the corporation.

The rule further directed the officers and directors to show cause why an injunction should not be granted, restraining them from paying any further bonuses, pending outcome of the suit. The rule is returnable in chancery court here January 27.

A preliminary injunction requested by the four stockholders, was not granted.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 14.—On behalf of all the stockholders of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, suit was on file today to recover $36,493,668 which testimony in the recent merger battle revealed was paid out as bonuses to officials of the company since 1911.

Vice-Chancellor Backs received the papers in the suit which were filed in the Court of Chancery here late last night. Because the tardiness of the action, Chancellor Backs reserved decision on two important orders contained in the suit.

The jurist declined to act on the application for an order which would require the defendants to appear and show cause why payment of all future bonuses should not be immediately stopped. Decision was also reserved on a second application contained in the action which would require the defendants to show further cause why a restraining order should not be issued against them from disposing of their holdings in the corporation, except subject to the lien of the action.

Defendants named in the action, all either officers or directors of the corporation, include: Eugene G. Grace, president; Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board; Percy A. Rockefeller, Quincy Bent, C. Austin Buck, H. Edgar Lewis, James H. Ward, Archibald Johnston, Frederick A. Shuck, John M. Gross, Robert M. McMath, C. R. Holton, J. M. Larkin, O. G. Jennings, William O. Potter, H. G. Dalton, Alvin Untermeyer, William E. Corey and Grayson M. P. Murphy, and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Four stockholders of the Bethlehem Corporation brought the newest action, an echo to the "million-dollar merger injunction suit" of Cyrus Eaton, to prevent a consolidation with Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company. Camillus Berendt, James E. Riley, Benjamin Glickfield and Earl Tait were the plaintiffs in the newest action. Their petition did not state what amount of the company's stock the four men represented through actual ownership.

Bonus Payment Plan
Cleveland O. Jan. 14.—Direct testimony revealing the huge bonuses paid to officers of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation constituted the most startling testimony in the recent suit brought by Cyrus Eaton.

Arrival and Company) may go into other lines of business if they like. They may deal in fish, vegetables, fruits, spices, coffee, tea, flour, sugar, milk and all those things and haul these commodities around in their refrigerator cars.

They still can't own stockyards, railroads, newspapers or public warehouses and, most important of all, they can't operate retail groceries or butcher shops.

All in all, it looks like a partial victory for the packers, and I am inclined to think that farmers and consumers both will benefit a little bit.

Of course the packers will be disappointed at not being able to open retail stores, since any smaller packer not bound by the decree can open a million, if he has the desire and the cash. That alleged injustice is not removed.

Possibly the Big Four will carry an appeal to the United States supreme court, to see whether they can do better, or they may decide to let well enough alone. We will soon see, at all events.

Gets Invitation To Harrisburg

Rentz Invited To Be Guest At Farm Show Building Dedication

Invitations have been received from Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Charles G. Jordan by Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz to be his guests at the dedication of the mammoth farm show building, which takes place in Harrisburg on Monday evening, January 19.

The farm show building will be one of the show places of the state capital. Covering an area of seven and a half acres it provides a proper place for a state farm display, and for the housing of military units if necessary.

Senators James A. Reed and James J. Davis, Governor John S. Fisher, Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot, National Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde will be on the speaking program and the building will be presented to the state Farm Products Show commission by Hon. Benson E. Taylor, secretary of property and supplies.

The affair is one that will attract thousands from all parts of the state. Dr. Jordan will be the chairman of the evening.

France Tightens Up Air Defense

Air Defense For France At Present Time Is Practically Impenetrable

(International News Service)
PARIS, Jan. 14.—France's air defense is now practically impenetrable, according to M. Paul Painlevé, minister of air, in an interview published in the Paris Midi today.

"Our anti-aircraft defense has reached the point where we are able to block incursions at an altitude of more than 6,000 metres (approximately 3.7 miles)," M. Painlevé is quoted as saying.

"Our aerial frontiers are now the most important obstacle in case of an invasion. The latest statistics show that only one-fourth of an attacking fleet could penetrate the defense except in case of surprise."

"Even then, however," the minister warned, "the casualties would be very heavy."

Cleveland Invites Democrats To Hold 1932 Convention In Lake City

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.—An invitation to the Democratic National Committee that the party hold its 1932 convention in Cleveland was prepared today, following its ratification by a unanimous vote of city council last night.

A resolution to extend a similar invitation to the Republican National Committee to hold its 1932 convention in the city will be presented at the council meeting next week, it was learned today.

McElwee Resigns Place As Viewer

Attorney William McElwee, Jr., presented his resignation as a member of the board of viewers to Judge Hildebrand today. Mr. McElwee stated in his resignation that he had been elected a member of the state legislature and that he believed the office of viewer to be incompatible with that of an assemblyman. Judge Hildebrand appointed Attorney Homer E. Drake to fill the vacancy. The appointment is for three years.

Lingle Suspect May Be Saved By Hospital Record

Attorneys For Leo V. Brothers, Will Scan Hospital Records Today

HOPE TO PROVE STRONG ALIBI

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Attorneys for Leo V. Brothers, St. Louis suspect held as the slayer of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, today were seeking hospital records of an operation undergone by Brothers which may prove an alibi, according to defense lawyers.

Brothers, according to his attorneys, underwent an operation about the time the reporter-racketeer was put on the "spot" by a lone gangster June 9. If this can be proved the attorneys declared they will be able to establish a perfect alibi.

In answer to criticism of Brothers' arrest and identification as the killer of Lingle, State's Attorney John A. Swanson and his aides have promised further information which they say will substantiate the murder charge placed against the St. Louis gunman.

Full information will be made public at the proper time, Swanson promised. Brothers was indicted for Lingle's murder Monday after the board of strategy formed to hunt down the Lingle killer announced that Brothers had been identified by witnesses as the reporter's murderer. No further information was given out by the prosecutors.

Farmers Despair Of Water Supply Before Spring

Scores Must Haul Water Or Drive Cattle Long Distances To Drink

Lawrence county farmers who have been short of water supply since last summer, have about given up hope of any improvement in conditions until next spring. While it is realized that there may be rains in the meantime, it is not believed that they will be sufficiently heavy to affect the water supply.

There are many farmers in the county today who must either haul water or drive their stock long distances to drink. Work of hauling water for a big herd of cattle is no small job, as it requires several barrels daily. One farmer is reported to have sold a herd of dairy cows, rather than haul water any longer.

In some instances where water has been obtained from wells, the wells have been drilled deeper and a supply secured but in a large percentage of cases no further drilling has been done. Some of the wells and springs which are now dry have never been known to fail before.

Publisher Opposes Building Hospital

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Jan. 14.—Agitation for the construction of a tuberculosis hospital here in 1931 today remained clouded with the statement by Carl H. Kupper, former newspaper publisher at Albion, that the Erie County Press Association would oppose any such attempt.

"The county is too deep in debt now," Kupper said. His statement was forwarded to county officials when it was learned an organization had been formed to begin work for the purpose of securing the construction of the institution.

Kupper said the editors organization would not withdraw its petition filed two years ago for injunction against the construction of the building. Numerous legal snarls followed filing of the petition and the issue has never been clearly settled since that time.

Objection Is Raised To Crossing Closing

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Formal objection to the proposed closing for public use of the crossing on the road known as "Old 82" over the New York Central railroad tracks located at the Osgood Station in Sugar Grove township, Mercer county, and the citing of a former agreement whereby the railroad was quoted as agreeing to keep the road open at all times was made before the Public Service Commission today.

The matter involved two questions. These were the necessity for the construction of a connecting road between the State Highway Route No. 82, west of the depot, and the road known as "Old 82" east of the depot on which the grade crossing is located, and the matter of closing the New York Central crossing to public use and keeping it open for patrons to and from the station.

Objections Filed
Counsel for the New York Central, and the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroads agreed in formal consent decisions filed with the commission to the elimination of the building of the connecting road and these decisions were concurred in by the State Highway Department in a letter read before the commission.

Counsel representing Mercer county, the Borough of Greenville, and the townships of Sugar Grove, West Salem and Hemphill objected to the elimination, stating the matter should be held in abeyance pending the possible removal of the Osgood Station from its present location.

In regard to the proposed closing of the crossing, counsel declared that the crossing was no more dangerous than many other crossings of a similar nature.

Court Is Helped By Settlements

Owing to the fact that settlements were made in several cases scheduled for trial at court this week, and the further fact that several attorneys interested in cases were ill, there were no cases that could be taken up before Judge Hildebrand this morning. The jurors were excused until this afternoon, when it is expected that a case will be ready for trial.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing. Any druggist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it. It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Staley And Deibler Named By Pinchot To Fill State Positions

Governor-Elect Pinchot
Makes Public Two More Appointments
Today

Eleven Of Members Who Will Serve In Pinchot
Cabinet Chosen

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—With 11 of the members who will serve in his cabinet already named, Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot today prepared to round out his list of appointments, with expectations that his official family would be complete by tonight.

The governor-elect made four more cabinet appointments yesterday.

They were Lewis E. Staley of Mont Alto, now state forester of South Carolina, to be secretary of forests and waters; Oliver M. Deibler of Greensburg, former member of the General Assembly, to be commissioner of fisheries; Richard J. Beamish, Philadelphia newspaperman, to be secretary of the commonwealth; and Charles F. Armstrong of Leeburg, to be insurance commissioner.

Appointment of Staley and Deibler, neither of whom had figured in the prophecies of the governors-elect late yesterday. Selection of Beamish and Armstrong was made public yesterday forenoon.

Veteran Forester
Staley, who will leave his post in South Carolina in the near future, graduated from the state forestry school at Mont Alto and has been a forester for nearly a quarter of a century. He was deputy secretary of forests and waters in the first Pinchot administration and has held the South Carolina post for the last four years.

Deibler, who served in the state legislature, is in the electrical contracting business in Greensburg, where he was formerly in the general merchandise and farm equipment business.

Pinchot Delighted
In announcing the selection of Staley and Deibler, Pinchot said: "I am delighted to announce that Lewis E. Staley, a professional forester, a graduate of the Mont Alto state forestry school in the first class, a former deputy secretary and perhaps the best known forester in Pennsylvania, will be the next secretary of forests and waters."

"Oliver M. Deibler, former member of the legislature and well-known outdoor man, will be commissioner of fisheries in the new cabinet. I have chosen Mr. Deibler and am gratified at his acceptance and take particular satisfaction in his appointment."

Selection of Deibler ended the long connection of Nathan R. Buller with the department of fisheries. With the exception of a few weeks in 1917, when the Senate failed to confirm him and Governor Brumbaugh reappointed him after adjournment of the legislature, Buller has served as commissioner of fisheries since 1911.

His state service is long enough to permit him to go on state retirement.

Further cabinet announcements were expected to be made by the governor-elect today after conferences with political aides and members of the legislature.

Dry Agent Felled By Bootlegger On Pittsburgh Street

Agent Attempts To Halt Boot-legger But Is Knocked Down
—Hunt Is Started

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Prohibition agents today were bending efforts to apprehend an alleged bootlegger who escaped from two of their number after knocking one from his automobile late last night.

Stopped for a red light, Agents L. E. Ross and Michael Cimbalista, noticed a machine nearby, also stopped for the light, laden with liquor, they reported. Ross at once stepped from his machine and proceeded to the other automobile.

When he revealed his identity the driver of the machine started up his car, knocked Ross from the running board and sped down the street.

Cimbalista placed Ross in his automobile and pursued the fleeing machine through a dozen streets in the Point Breeze section of the city, but the daring driver managed to elude capture.

At prohibition headquarters it was said that Ross was not seriously injured.

Croton Officials Meet For Business Tuesday Evening

A meeting of importance was held in the Croton Avenue Methodist church Tuesday evening when the official board met for conference and reports of the work being done by the church. Three new members were elected to the board: Charles Lees, Clyde Fisher and Richard Moffett, all active members of the church.

It was unanimously decided by the board that a series of revival services would be held in March and Rev. Margaret Joshua was chosen as the evangelistic speaker. This news will be received enthusiastically by the residents of New Castle as last year when Rev. Joshua conducted the services in this church, a crowded auditorium greeted her at every session.

Rev. Joshua is at present conducting a series of evangelistic meetings in the First Methodist church of Corry and the press of that city is lauding her work in the highest terms. It is notable that Rev. Joshua has been requested again and again to speak in the churches where she has already been heard. Her power as a preacher and orator is well known.

Two Dartmouth Undergraduates Resign From School And Take Up Married Life

(International News Service)
HANOVER, N. H., Jan. 14.—Two Dartmouth College seniors and their brides were on their honeymoon today following a secret double wedding here Sunday night. The college romances became known with the receipt of the resignation of the two undergraduates by the college.

E. Douglas Woodring of Easton, Pa., was married to Miss Albertina Drake, of Newark, N. J., while John Russell Ewing, of Olean, N. Y., married Miss Mary E. Coulter, of Frankford, Ind., at the double ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Philip I. Sherman at the Theta Delta Chi fraternity house. Only fraternity brothers attended the twin nuptials.

START PRELIMINARY WORK ON ORGAN INSTALLATION

Preliminary work on the installation of the new organ in the First Christian church was started Tuesday afternoon. Representatives of the Organ Company have been sent here to make the installation but before the actual work putting in the pipes and mechanical equipment can be started there is considerable preliminary work to do. Among this is the tearing out of certain floor sections, dismantling the old organ, and providing space for the various parts of the new organ.

It is probable that the church will have the use of the old organ for one more Sunday, but following that it is expected that the new instrument will be under way. By the end of February it is expected that the installation will be completed and the new organ ready for the dedicatory concert.

The organ is the gift of Mrs. T. W. Phillips and family to the First Christian Church.

Numbers Raids Made In Warren

WARREN, O., Jan. 14.—Four men were arrested and slips for recording numbers, lottery selections and other paraphernalia were seized here Tuesday afternoon, when police raided an office, two blocks from the downtown section.

One man, Paul Sisk, Warren, charged under a new city ordinance with selling lottery tickets, was fined $50 and costs late today in Police Court.

Police believe they have broken up all but one of the number of lottery racket headquarters and said they expected to raid that one if it is operating today.

Two of the largest clearing houses lottery establishments closed their books shortly after Jan. 1, police learned.

Run-Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions.

Mrs. Fred Westin, of 387 E. 57th St., North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs. That was two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

State Commission Is Interested In Case Of Barlett

Secretary Of State Aeronautics Body Asks Transcript Of Case Heard In City

John C. Kelso, secretary of the State Aeronautics Commission has written to Alderman W. E. Marshall for a transcript of the record in the case which the commission had pressed against Arthur Barlett, young New Wilmington airplane pilot.

Barlett was charged with violation of the state commission ruling on air traffic, the specific charge being flying half an hour after sunset without lights.

Barlett paid the minimum fine of $50 for the violation after waiving a hearing in Alderman Marshall's office Saturday afternoon. The case was pressed against Barlett by Lorin C. Faurot, aviation inspector, who declared the prosecution was a disciplinary measure.

Faurot said his department regretted the unfortunate accident recently when Fleming Comstock, another New Wilmington youth, was killed in a plane crash in Edenburg. Barlett was the pilot of the plane.

While the fine climaxed the first prosecution of its kind in Lawrence county, Secretary Kelso, in his letter to the alderman who had the case, added that the "violation is the first under this particular section of regulations in which any action has been taken."

Party for Daughter

Charming in every detail was the birthday party given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilkes in honor of their daughter, Virginia, the date being her 18th birthday. The party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byrd Pickard, West Falls street.

Musie and games formed pleasant pastimes for the evening hours and the honor guest received many lovely gifts in commemoration of the event.

At a late hour Mrs. Wilkes, assisted by Mrs. Pinkard and Mrs. J. W. Gilmore, served a most tempting lunch to the Misses Anna E. Taylor, Hattie Goe, Bernice Carter, Mary E. Brown, Ola Lott, Edith Bell, Margaret Vooloo and Emma Young. Messrs. Ed. Wilkes Jr., John Johnson, Arthur Dandson Jr., Donald Williams, Norman Miller, Oliver B. Pollard, Earl Webber, George S. Taylor, Theo. Jackson, Vaughn Fitzhugh, Huber Mann, Harry Hood and J. W. Gilmore Jr.

Missionary Meeting

The Missionary society of the St. John's United Holy church will have a program Sunday January 18, at 3:30 p. m. when there will be presented solos, duets, readings and short talks on missionary work.

The purpose of the meeting is to bring before the people the splendid work of those who are presenting the cause of Christ in foreign fields, and the offering will be used for furthering this work.

A. U. R. GIRLS TOBOGGAN PARTY

Miniature red toboggans marked covers for over 40 guests when the A. U. R. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church met for their annual dinner at seven o'clock Tuesday evening, with the husbands and children as special guests.

Attractive tables were centered with miniature forts and illuminated by tall red tapers in crystal holders. Each guest was presented with a toboggan cap preceding the sumptuous dinner served. The color tones of red and white were used in every detail throughout the menu. Following the dinner a snowballing contest was enjoyed.

Mrs. Charles B. Winger was leader of a most unique program. The program was opened with a contralto solo, "An Evening Prayer," by Mrs. Clifford M. Propst, followed by impersonations of missionaries in the home and foreign field. These characters were portrayed in costume by Mrs. Walter Shaw, Sara Rice, Mrs. H. E. Barnes and Fannie Love. "National Missions" were reviewed by Mrs. Z. Street and the foreign topic, "China," by Margaret Lowery, Mrs. Walter Shaw, soprano, and Mrs. Clifford M. Propst, contralto, accompanied by Miss Mitchell, favored the guests with a request number, "Follow the Glean," by Douglas, the Silver Bay prize song of 1920, Byrn Mawr College.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the guests were invited to the church parlors, where a "disfranchisement school of long ago" caused much merriment. Miss Theodora Pollock proved herself a capable school-marm.

Much credit for the success of the evening is due Miss Alisan Leslie, president; Mrs. Adda U. Rude-sill, founder of the A. U. R. Girls Auxiliary, the executive committee and the dinner hostesses, Mrs. Emerson McGuire, Sarah Swisher and Gladys Lewis.

LADIES OF LIONS MONTHLY MEETING

A most interesting session was that of the Ladies of the Lions club when they met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Anna Nixon, 312 Leasure avenue, for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Laura Ramsey, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting and matters of importance were taken up and discussed and plans promulgated for the future work of the club.

Mrs. Leila Conway gave a most interesting talk on "The Blind Boy and His Dog" and read letters from Dr. Howard Buchanan of Monmouth, Ill and Rev. R. A. Blair of Parnassus, who are both blind and get about with the assistance of their faithful dogs. Their letters proved of intense interest to the women, who are interesting themselves in work among the blind of the community.

Mrs. Myra Elliott, 222 East Lincoln avenue will receive the members for the meeting February 10.

Anna Kidoo Missionary Society

The Anna Kidoo Missionary Society of the Central Christian church met Tuesday with Mrs. Virginia Irwin of Bonzo street. Matings of interest were fully discussed during the business session, which was in charge of their president, Mrs. Margaret Davis. Later a missionary program was presented with Mrs. Marian Garrity in charge. Mrs. Margaret Davis and Mrs. Jennette Renny entertained with a duet and a reading was given by Mrs. Flor Strobel and Mrs. Garrity as the closing feature.

Covers were laid for 30 guests at tables nicely arranged, where the committee served a delicious lunch. Those serving included Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, Mrs. Irene Coulter, Mrs. Virginia Irwin and Helen Strobel.

The next meeting will be held on February 10 at the home of Mrs. Christine Jones on Catherine street.

P. R. R. Aid Meets

Sewing furnished most of the morning and afternoon's diversion for the regular January meeting of the Women's Aid of the Pennsylvania railroad, held in the third floor assembly room over the company freight house last Tuesday.

At noon Mrs. T. L. Bailey, aided by Mrs. E. M. Fisher, Mrs. H. D. Lackey, Mrs. J. J. Cunningham and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton, served a delicious lunch to the guests. Mrs. Bailey's staff was in charge for the day.

Mrs. H. T. Frushour, superintendent of the Aid, presided during the short business session that occurred during the afternoon.

On Tuesday, Feb. 10, the Aid membership gathers with Mrs. J. C. Hanrahan and members of her staff as hostesses.

Jollikousin Club

Miss Mae Cromie of the Harlanburg road entertained the Jollikousin Club members in her home Tuesday evening at their regular meeting. A business session was the opening feature of the activities planned, when arrangements were made for the anniversary dinner to be held in the near future.

Games and contests were later enjoyed, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Theima Gardner and Mrs. Florence DePue. The hostess was assisted in serving a dainty lunch by Mrs. Letha Bishop and Mrs. Ritchie.

An added feature of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful birthday gift to Mrs. Gladys Pulford from the club members.

In two weeks Mrs. Gladys Marshall of Garfield avenue will entertain.

Hart Young Women Meet

Members of the Hart Young Women of the Epworth Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Boyd, Edgewood avenue with Miss Olive Springer, president in charge of the business session and leader of the devotionals.

Mrs. Betty Henderson reviewed a chapter of the study book and the missionary enigmas were given by the various members.

A social hour ensued and the hostess served a delicious repast before the members adjourned to meet on February 10 at the home of Mrs. Vera Voorhees, Wilmington avenue.

Party For Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Cassello, 310 East Home street, entertained a group of 25 children in their home Tuesday evening in honor of their daughter, Mary, the date being that of her birth anniversary. She was nine years old.

Games of an amusing nature and dancing formed pleasant entertainment with a special tap dance by Rose Roscano; a song and clever dance by Betty Jane Toscano; Pauline Cassello pleased with a dance and song, as did Victoria Dompere and Junior Vitale gave a reading.

The honor guest was the recipient of many lovely gifts and at a late hour the hostess, assisted by Mary Cassello, Rose and Clara Vitale served the little ones a delicious "party" lunch.

Silver Craft Club

Mrs. Amos Tunison was a charming hostess Tuesday evening when she received members of the Silver Craft club in her home for the regular meeting.

Three tables of cards were in play during the evening, after which the small tables were daintily appointed in pink and white and the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. P. Dickson served a dainty repast. Mrs. Samantha Shirdandy of Greenville was a special guest.

January 27 Mrs. Dickson will entertain in her home on Lathrop St.

Card Party

There will be a special musical program at both services next Sunday, instrumental and vocal. A table of offerings for the mortgage will also feature the services.

Sunday evening, the 25th, there will be a baptismal service. All desiring to be immersed should get in touch with the pastor, Rev. Scripture, at once.

The annual Missionary convention will be held January 28-February 1. Special revival meetings will follow immediately after the convention.

W. B. A. Officers

The 1931 officers of the Women's Benefit association 98, will meet this evening at the home of Miss Anna Patterson, Butler avenue, instead of Friday evening, as announced.

Dames of Malta Meet

Tuesday evening the Dames of Malta held a regular business and social session in the Malta hall with Mrs. Maude Nolan, acting queen, in charge. Many matters of importance to the organization were taken up and at the close of business bingo was played by the members until a late hour when refreshments were served by the committee: Mrs. Maude Nolan, Mrs. Sherbine, Mrs. Gertrude Halboth and Mrs. Jennie Thompson.

January 20 will mark the date of the next regular session.

Attendance Record.

The Queen Esther class of the Third United Presbyterian church is striving to set a real attendance record this year. Every member has promised to put forth an effort to be at the meeting this Sunday and every other meeting of the future. One hundred per cent attendance is the goal.

Zion Lutheran Church

The meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Zion Lutheran church scheduled for Thursday afternoon has been postponed until 8 p. m. Thursday.

The church council will also meet at the same time. Both meetings will be held in the church.

Willing Worker's Class

Thursday evening Mrs. Wallace McKee of 456 Neshamock avenue, will receive the members of the Willing Workers' class of the Second United Presbyterian church in her home for the annual birthday party.

An interesting program has been arranged for the evening.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

At Office.

Miss Grace Lowers, secretary of the Girl Reserve department, was present at the staff meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Lowers resumed her duties at the Y. W. C. A. after an absence due to a fractured ankle. She is now spending part of every day at her office.

China's unused resources are said to be similar to those of the United States 400 years ago.

Merchants Plan

February Sale

Committee Appointed To Arrange Big Three-Day Sales Event This Morning

Arrangements were gotten under way for the merchants mid-year sale at a meeting of the Better Business Bureau of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce held this morning in the directors room of the chamber.

This sale will be similar to the three-day Harvest Sale conducted under the auspices of the Better Business Bureau last August, and some attractive bargains are planned for residents of the community on this occasion.

No definite date was set for the sale, but it will be held sometime during the month of February.

The committee named to take charge of further arrangements, consists of De Lace Cole of W. J. Offutt Company, chairman; George Fox, of D. G. Ramsey and Sons; Ted Higgins of Higgins Brothers; J. L. Rocks of Fisher Brothers; Carl Fries of Fisher Brothers; Carl E. Paisley of Paisley's Pharmacy; J. M. Goheen, New Castle Dry Goods Co.; L. E. Lull, Nelsner Brothers; E. F. Lynn, Woolworth Co.; and F. M. Crosby, Strauss-Hirschberg Co.

Plane From Here Enters Line Service

Wrights To Put Dual Control Stinson Monoplane In Air Service

The dual control Stinson Junior monoplane stored at Bradford field since December 15 by Ray and Kenneth Wright, was flown to Ambridge Pa., Tuesday afternoon. The monoplane took off from the local field at about 4 p. m., piloted by Ray Wright, the father.

The Wrights took their plane to Clarkburg, W. Va., this morning, according to a report from Bradford airport, to place it in the service of the Pittsburgh-Clarkburg air line. The plane will probably be employed in emergency cases, it is reported. Kenneth, the son, is an employee of the air line.

Vets Auxiliary To Meet Thursday

Class Of Candidates Will Be Initiated At Semi-Monthly Meeting

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold their semi-monthly meeting in their rooms in the Legion Home Association Building Thursday evening.

In addition to initiation of a class of candidates, there will be a number of important matters up for discussion.

Make Trouble; Get Arrested

W. G. Sterns and H. G. Henry, a couple of transients claiming Detroit as their home, and rather the worse of liquor they had been indulging in, were arrested last night at the Coney Island Lunch on Washington street, when they insisted on getting some empty cat-soup jars at their own price. During the discussion, one of these men started into the kitchen and one of the proprietors, believing that they might be intending to rob the place, called the police. They were discharged this morning and given instructions to be on their way.

Name Committee On Nominations

In connection with the meeting of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, Chairman Clarence A. Patterson named a committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year, who will be voted upon at the meeting of the Chapter in February.

This committee consists of Attorney W. Walter Graham, chairman; Mrs. Mary Conti, Ivor V. Davis, and Julius Blaha.

Clara Bow Again On Witness Stand

Famous "It" Girl of Movies Back In Court To Testify At Secretary's Trial

WOMAN ACCUSED OF GRAND THEFT

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 14.—
Word that Clara Bow will be recalled to the witness stand today to offer further testimony against Daisy Devoe, her former secretary on trial for grand theft, caused courtroom attaches to prepare for a capacity crowd this morning.

The red-haired "It" girl of motion pictures will be asked to identify more telegrams and letters, most of them rich in memories of romances she has had, prosecutors intimated.
Yesterday's session reached its climax when Miss Bow identified a thick packet of such telegrams and they were accepted as evidence by Judge William C. Doran.

Deputy District Attorney David H. Clark said the missives had been recovered for Miss Bow from the effects of her dismissed secretary whom Miss Bow has charged with embezzling $30,000. Prosecutors afterwards reduced the amount to $16,000.

Clara Is Excited
Brushing an occasional tear from her eye and testifying in an excited tone the screen favorite told from

State Department Gets Information On Disabled Vets

Information Is Gathered By Harry L. McBride Post
Of V. F. W.

Information requested by the State Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been mailed to State Adjutant C. A. Gnaul, by the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The State Department is completing a survey of Pennsylvania, showing the number of men who are dependent because of disability, unemployment, and illness. They also seek information on the number of widows and orphans of veterans, who need assistance.

The McBride Post found approximately fifteen veterans, most of them with families, who are now receiving assistance from different veterans organizations.

The information desired will be presented in connection with legislation now pending.

Legion Of Honor To Meet Tonight

Important Meeting Will Be Held In Cathedral This Evening

Several matters of importance will come up for discussion at the meeting of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory in the Cathedral this evening.

The by-laws, which have been read at the several preceding meetings, will come up for final passage, and plans will be completed for the dance to be given on Friday evening,
January 16, in the Cathedral.

In addition, the entertainment committee has arranged for a good program of entertainment, which will be climaxed by a feed.

Pittsburgh Police Get Call To Pitt Campus To Arrest Two
"Crazy" Fellows

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—Attaches of the Oakland police station will warily assure you today that there are jokes . . . and jokes.

And other things that aren't jokes
A hurried call came into the station yesterday from an unknown source. "Two crazy men," the caller told the sergeant, "are running wild on Pitt campus and they're carrying a large sack."

The patrol wagon was called out, loaded with policemen, and sent to the campus.

Myrlen Morgan and Thomas Wilkins, medical students, were taken into custody.

They were not released until identified and proved sane by a faculty member.

The medical class, conducting respiration experiments, had sent Morgan and Wilkins out on a campus run equipped with the "sack"—a nose and mouth wind collector—to demonstrate its respiratory merits.

HIKE IS PLANNED

The meeting of Kiwanis Troop 37 was held Monday night, with ten members being present. The program opened with short patrol meetings. The business meeting followed with Howell Williams acting as chairman.

The troop's good turn for the month, it was decided, will be to furnish a poor family with a basket of food. Ed Donegan suggested the troop plan a hike, and this was voted favorably. Dr. Raymond Lutz will have charge.

The senaphone code was given by Dr. Lutz and George Horton. The games played included scout baseball and other interesting games.

EASIEST WAY TO BREAK UP A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way

Works Fast—Makes You Feel Like a New Person Before
You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: To knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets every three hours. Drink lots of water between times—that's all. Soon those mean aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Make Voice Attractive To Children

Dr. Myers Discourages
"Baby Talk" Among Parents

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head, Division of Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Long before the baby can imitate a sound—about as soon, indeed, as he responds to others by a smile, speak in his presence with precision.

One of the funniest things that adults do is to speak to the infant just beginning in a loud, high-pitched voice. Housewives speak in like manner to maids of foreign tongue.

They don't do so purposely; they do it unawares. The reason is that they are trying so hard to make the infant or the maid understand them that they unconsciously speak loud and high. Be on your guard and you will not commit this folly.

Most adults also indulge in "baby talk." The psychology of this practice is not hard to understand. You try to make yourself agreeable to the child, attempt to be on his level for the moment, with a curious assumption, which you have not consciously derived, that by using "baby talk" you are getting closer to the child.
But you are wrong. You are not nearly so attractive then.

Any parent who realizes how very hard it is for the baby to learn to talk knows very well that he is adding to the child's difficulty every time he utters a word wrong or in-distinctly. Speak, therefore, to the infant as to adults—only with more care. Be very sure that he hears the word sounded very plainly. Don't murmur your words. Exercise your teeth, and lips and tongue, uttering every word as nearly perfectly as possible. So speaking in the presence of the baby will make your speech attractive to adults also.

If we only knew it, and if we really cared, all of us could improve our personality by enunciating more distinctly every word we speak, no matter when or where.

As soon as the child begins to use words and sentences, he is very considerate and sympathetic with him.
Never smile or laugh, no matter how amusing any utterance of his may be. Don't ask him to repeat anything for improvement. Calmly say it slowly and distinctly after him.
In case he voluntarily repeats after you, smilingly approve him.

As he grows older and speaks con-trectly, never stop him to correct a grammatical mistake or an error in pronunciation. Wait until there is a comfortable pause, when you can calmly say correctly that which he had said wrong.

Ideas come faster to the little child than he is able to express them; so he is certain to stammer some in his early speech development. Just be calm; give him the word you are sure he wants, but don't ask him to wait, and never tell him to repeat after you. Let him alone. Listen patiently; don't look at his mouth when he stam-mers; act as if all is going well.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

like to have answered personally,

ENDS DIGESTIVE ILLS QUICK AND GAINS 10 POUNDS

Food does not nourish when it is not properly digested. That's why people who suffer from gas on stomach and bowels, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, etc., due to indigestion, often find themselves underweight, weak, with little energy and vitality.

All this is quickly changed when you start using the simple discovery known as Pape's Diapepsin. When people experience for themselves the amazing results of using these tasty little tablets, they invariably feel compelled to tell others.

Mrs. Amber Ross, 140 Herkimer Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I suffered for many months with indigestion, nervousness and headaches, trying all the time to get relief by dieting and medicines."

"Then I learned about Pape's Diapepsin and began on it. It has been a wonderful help to me. I eat onions now without bad after-effects.
How they used to make me suffer!

"Friends that I have told about Diapepsin have been helped in the same way. I have gained ten pounds since starting on it."

Two Events To Feature Farm Show Program

Dedication Of Farm Show Building And Inauguration To Take Place Next Week

STATE CAPITOL TO BE OVERCROWDED

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Two events of more than usual interest will occur here during the State Farm Products Show next week. Farmers and their families attending the show will be privileged to attend both.

The new Farm Show Building will be dedicated next Monday night, marking the formal opening of the show. The next day Gifford Pinchot will be inaugurated as Governor succeeding John S. Fisher. The ceremony will take place on the front steps of the Capitol.

Because inauguration, the session of the Legislature and the Farm Show each will bring huge crowds to Harrisburg farmers planning to spend more than one day at the show will be wise in arranging for sleeping places as early as possible. Housing and eating accommodations of the city will be taxed to capacity, especially Monday and Tuesday.

The new Farm Show Building is at Cameron and Macley streets, at the northern end of the city. It was built during the past eighteen months by the state at cost of almost $1,500,000. In addition to exhibit space it has auditoriums and rooms in which large meetings can be held.

Not Big Enough
Despite the fact that the new building has nine acres of floor space, it seems to be too small even before the first show has been held there. When horse breeders requested scheduling of a special showing of Percherons, show directors found no space remained in the building and authorized erection of a huge tent adjoining the show building to house the exhibit. Dairy cattle, swine and poultry exhibits also are larger than anticipated and entries were closed early for these departments because of lack of additional space.

The retiring and incoming governors, Fisher and Pinchot, are expected to be on the stage when the building is dedicated. Governor Fisher's speech there will be his last official utterance.

The Farm Show is expected to be the largest held in the decade and one-half since the winter agricultural carnivals began in Harrisburg. Attendance is expected to exceed 100,000. It also will be the most convenient, because for the first time the show will be housed under one roof instead of being scattered in various buildings throughout the city.

Social events will mingle with the other attractions of the Farm Show program. A dozen banquets and luncheons are scheduled, in addition to the educational programs and business sessions of the twenty-eight farm organizations which will hold their conventions here in connection with the show.

Dinner Stories

HOLD EVERYTHING!

One of the Texas boys brings this one to us. He tells of a colored man sitting on the steps of the general store, enjoying the first watermelon of the season. A friend dashed up to him.

"Jim," he gasped, "Jim, dey's bad news for you. Yore wife just now fell dead from heart failure!"

The husband's cry was an inarticulate gurgle.

"Jim!" cried the bearer of ill tidings. "Didn't you heah what I tellin' you? Yore pore wife jest fell dead. Ain't you got no grief to show?"

The widower raised his head until the lower part of his face temporarily had lost connection with the dripping delicacy.

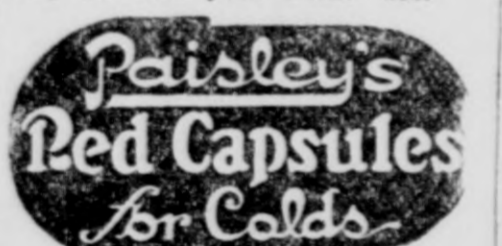

"Boy," he said, "kindly stand 'round yere till I sits through wid dis watermelon an' then I'm goin' show you some real grief."

An alienist says insanity is decreasing. But it may only seem so because you have to be crazier nowadays to be crazy.—The Racine Journal-News.

Tells Of Cause And Treatment Of Goitre

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Such a large number of requests for information on the subject of goitre have been received that they can be answered in mass during the present week.

Goitre is an enlargement of the thyroid gland. This gland is situated in the neck, closely attached to the trachea, or windpipe, and just below the larynx or voice box containing the vocal cords. Normally it weighs about an ounce; it has two lobes lying to the right and left of the middle of the trachea, connected by a narrower band, the isthmus; each lobe is about the size and shape of a large Brazil nut.

Why does it enlarge? To get any idea of this vexed question, we must inquire into its use in the body.

To learn about the function of any gland we may do several things. The first thing that suggests itself is to study it at work. For instance, we may do this with a muscle. If we observe the biceps muscle in the arm we see that when it contracts it lifts the forearm. Second, we may devise experiments to understand its internal mechanism. When we do that with a muscle we learn many things—that in contracting it uses up oxygen, burns sugar, etc. If a gland is to be studied, we obtain some of its secretion, analyze its chemistry and find out what its actions are.

In the case of the thyroid many difficulties present themselves. First, when we merely observe the gland we see no action, no changes in it from hour to hour. It has no duct by which we might obtain its secretion. We obtain saliva from the duct of the parotid gland. It is one gland, the ductless glands, which pour their secretions directly into the blood stream.

We are, therefore, thrown back in our study of the thyroid on four other methods. One is to see what removal of the gland does to the body. One is to feed the gland to normal people or animals. Next is to observe what happens when it is diseased. Fourthly, we may analyze the chemical nature of thyroids removed from the body.

Much has been learned from the study of babies who are born without any thyroid gland—they are called "cretins." They grow very little, always remain dwarflike; their body heat is very low; they have thick skin, and a gross, heavy appearance; their reproductive functions are absent.

Feeding thyroid substance to these people changes their symptoms. Feeding it to animals causes increase in body heat, decrease in weight, mental excitement and reproductive activity.

The chemical analysis of thyroid substances shows that it contains a large amount of iodine.

We conclude, then, that the secretion of the thyroid needs iodine to be perfect, that this secretion poured into the blood stream has influence over growth, body heat, mental activity and reproductive ability.

Pittcairn Named D. T. & I. Head

Once Pennsy Chief Here, Now Goes To Presidency Of Detroit Road

N. B. Pittcairn of Pittsburgh, superintendent of the Erie & Astabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad here from 1925 to 1927, but of late the general superintendent of the company's Eastern Ohio division, assumes his new duties as president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad at Detroit, January 16.

Announcement of the election of Pittcairn to the post marks the advancement of the second E. & A. superintendent to a railroad presidency, the other being Sir Henry Thornton, now president and chairman of the board of the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Pittcairn, a descendant of one of Pittsburgh's pioneer families, succeeded W. S. Franklin, who becomes the assistant to the vice president of the Pennsylvania in charge of operations, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Thieves Use Truck To Carry Off 3000 Pounds Of Flour

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Jan. 14.—Police are searching for robbers who used a truck to cart away 3,000 pounds of flour in 30 100-pound sacks, besides $188 in cash from the Curtisville Baking Company.

N. C. Petcoff discovered the theft as he opened the place early yesterday.

Petcoff called state police in Butler, who are without clues. The safe door was open. Petcoff is uncertain whether he closed it the night before, while authorities have been unable to detect any evidence which would indicate the safe door had been jammed or blasted open. The money taken from the safe represented Petcoff's Monday collections.

Would Flog All Convicted Bandits

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 14.—A whipping post bill was introduced in the Indiana Senate by Senator Robert L. Moorehead, Rep. of Indianapolis, today, in an effort to discourage modern banditry.

The bill provides for the flogging of any persons convicted of a felony in which a deadly weapon was used. It would apply mostly to bank robbers, auto bandits and stick up artists.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Make Decision On Mt. Gretna

Military Reservation Commission To Determine Whether Reserve
Will Be Abandoned

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Whether Mt. Gretna is to be retained as the future training grounds for the Pennsylvania National Guard probably will be determined within a short time after the new administration takes charge next week. A meeting of the military reservation commission, authorized by the last legislature, is expected to be called during the next few weeks.

The 1929 legislature created the commission consisting of the general officers of the Pennsylvania Guard and two civilians for the purpose of determining the future course of the reservation.

An appropriation of $300,000 was authorized by the legislature for the purchase of ground either at Mt. Gretna or a new site if removal from the Lebanon county reservation was deemed fitting by the commission. After several meetings of the commission no decisions have been reached. Unless the commission spends the money or enters into contracts for its use before May 31, 1931, the appropriation will lapse.

In the event the commission recommends that Mt. Gretna be abandoned as a military reservation the federal government would be required to spend thousands at a new site. The money for all the buildings used by the guard at Mt. Gretna has been furnished by the war department. Recently contracts were awarded for additional construction costing more than $28,000 for more new buildings which may be an indication that the present reservation will be retained.

D. U. V. Installs Officers For Year

Mrs. Margaret Schwing Of Johnstown Addresses Members On Work Of Homes

Before many members of all auxiliaries affiliated with the G. A. R. the newly elected officers of the Daughters of Union Veterans were inducted Tuesday evening by Mrs. Rose Tripp, installing officer, and her staff, Mrs. Margaret Clark, Mrs. Emma McKissick, Mrs. Blanche Taylor, Mrs. Pearl Cook and Mrs. Minnie Mayers.

With beautiful floor work by the officers, all in white, the color bearers with their beautiful American flags, the ceremony was one of great impressiveness and loyalty to the United States and the soldiers who had so bravely gone out in 61.

The new officers installed were: President, Mrs. Maude Fisher; senior vice, Mrs. Florence Gillespie; junior vice, Mrs. Jessie Mayne; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Kurtz; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Boak; secretary, Mrs. Jessie Crooks; press correspondent, Mrs. Nora Kelly; guide, Mrs. Alice Jackson; guard, Mrs. Minnie Kaufmann; assistant, Mrs. Edith Hahn; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Martha Fox; musician, Mrs. Nellie Knox; and color bearers, Anna Patterson, Mrs. Carrie Heltzman, Mrs. Sarah Linton and Margaret Powers.

After the new officers had been guided to their respective stations Mrs. Margaret Schwing of Johnstown, past president and now deputy counsel, installed Mrs. Rose Tripp as the counsel of the local tent.

Mrs. Schwing then addressed a short talk to the members of the D. U. V. and their visitors from the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Women's Relief Corps and the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, urging them to go forward with their work and especially to work for the betterment of the homes for aged ladies at Hawkins Landing and Brookville. She told of her many visits to these homes and the splendid places they are and asked the tent to try and furnish a room at one of them.

Mrs. Emma McKissick then presented Mrs. Tripp with a gift in appreciation of the work she has done for the tent.

The assemblage was formed into two lines, led by the color bearers and escorted to the dining room where a dainty lunch was served at tables attractively decorated in the national colors with Mrs. Emma McKissick, Mrs. Mary Kurtz, Mrs. Lucy Pettitt, Mrs. Alice Jackson, Mrs. Blanche Taylor and Mrs. Martha Fox as the committee in charge.

The tent planned a chicken dinner for Thursday, January 22, to be given in their hall in the city building.

A JOURNEY TO VENUS

Being An Account Of A Flight Through Space From The Earth To The Planet Venus

By S. S. MYERS

CHAPTER II

I was on the scene early the following afternoon with baggage containing plenty of warm clothing, as I imagined it would be cold out in space, and was introduced to those who were to become my fellow voyagers. Dr. Swartz was a short, thick set man with light brown hair, a neatly trimmed beard, smiling blue eyes and a friendly hand-shake. Professor Weldon was rather tall, dark complexioned, possessed of a kindly manner although rather serious. Berwick and Linn were courteous gentlemen with an air of self reliance which made one feel that they were men who understood their business. Professor Scharwinski, the inventor of the dirigible, as he called it, and leader of this unusual expedition was, perhaps, the most distinguished looking individual of the party, with his long gray hair neatly brushed back and falling almost to his shoulders. In appearance he always reminded me of the picture of Franz List, the celebrated composer of music.

By nightfall everything was in readiness. The sun set in a clear sky and soon the planet Venus appeared in all its brightness over to the right of sunset. By 9 o'clock we were all aboard. The dirigible had been held to the earth fore and aft by ropes which passed through iron rings attached to strong posts. At the signal the ropes were released simultaneously from within, quickly drawn through the rings and pulled on board. The apertures were then closed, and we began to ascend.

The gas engines were then started and we were soon speeding upward in circles although in a general way heading westward toward our goal. Professor Scharwinski was at the controls and Dr. Swartz at the instruments keeping tab on our increasing altitude. Eventually he announced that we were five miles up—then ten—twenty—thirty miles up and far out over the Pacific. The atmosphere was becoming too thin to support the wings of the dirigible, and Scharwinski shut off the gas engines and quickly brought the rocket machine into play.

I had been watching the full moon which hung over the eastern horizon giving to the earth the appearance of a vast silvery expanse when the rockets were turned on. At first there were a few distinctly forward propelling movements gradually growing fainter and fainter and finally ceased entirely. Fearing that something had gone wrong with the machinery I made my way forward to Scharwinski and expressed my fears. "Everything is working nicely," said he. "That you no longer hear the explosions of the rockets is a demonstration of a fact long known to science, namely, that outside of the earth's atmosphere there is no sound. We are now out in space, which is a vacuum with no medium for conveying sound. Here, inside of our ship there is sound and we can converse with one another because of the atmosphere imprisoned within these walls; but outside there is no sound."

"Ah!" I exclaimed. "I see now why you have girded our ship about with strong steel bands—there is no pressure from outside, and the pressure of the natural and artificial atmosphere within might have caused our ship to burst like a bubble!"

"This conveyance has been planned and constructed to meet all conditions," said he.

On looking out again I was shocked at the appearance of the sky, which had turned intensely black. Venus, directly ahead of us, looked like a brilliant diamond set in black velvet, while the Milky Way and the constellations shone with a dazzling brightness never before witnessed by mortal eye. The view held me spellbound and I could see that the others were also impressed with the scene.

Four hours after leaving the earth we witnessed a most unusual sight—the sun coming up in the west. We had passed out of the earth's shadow. But what an awe inspiring sight it was! It no longer appeared like the sun we had studied through the telescope, or viewed in the reflection of smoked glasses. It appeared as a huge ball of seething fire in a black background, shooting out jets and streams of flame in all directions. But the intense flaming light did not diminish the brightness of the stars.

At 6 o'clock Scharwinski suggested that Professor Weldon take charge of the instruments and Dr. Swartz and one of the mechanics retire so that they might rest and be ready to take charge of the controls and instruments later, as it would be necessary for three always to be on duty, he himself doing double turn on the first lap of the journey.

After the two men had partaken of some refreshments and retired Professor Scharwinski manipulated a faucet connected with a tube to the compartment in which was stored the oxygen containers, and a stream of fresh, damp air flooded the interior of the ship. This, I afterwards learned, was a mixture of oxygen and nitrogen with a very small portion of hydrogen—a compound prepared by Scharwinski for this journey. A few moments later I noticed that the interior of the glass walls were covered with a thin coating of frost, indicating the intense cold without. But where the burning rays of the sun fell upon the glass the frost quickly evaporated.

Not having any special duties in the management of our craft, I felt at liberty to retire at will, which I did at 8 o'clock 11 hours after our start. It was 2 o'clock when I awoke, feeling a strange sense of buoyancy. I seemed to have lost my weight and could have leaped to the ceiling without any great effort. I noticed that while I slept the earth had apparently decreased in size until it now presented a complete rounded out profile and to my astonishment, it was no longer beneath—it was behind us! The entire surface of the globe was covered with a pale blue mist which I knew must be the atmosphere, and through which only faint outlines of the surface could be distinguished. The ice caps at the poles could be dimly seen, while that at the south pole appeared much more extensive than the one at the north.

Improve Park As Relief Measure

Grove City Park Will Be Put In Shape By Unemployed
Of Borough

GROVE CITY, Jan. 14.—Steps to relieve unemployment in Grove City and to clean up Memorial park was taken at a recent meeting of the borough council at which time John McCune, Jr., chairman of the local relief committee and a member of the park commission, presented a proposition which council approved. The sum of $500 will be spent at the park during the next month.

Mr. McCune said the local citizens were in need of work and the park committee would need quite a lot of work done in the park before summer.

A few days ago County Agent W. S. Hagar sent a state forester to the local park, who marked the dead and unnecessary trees throughout the park for removal. About $500 was asked by Mr. McCune which will give employment two days a week to about 30 men during the month.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Grove City Commercial club was held Monday evening in the Penn Grove hotel. The regular election of officers was the important feature of the meeting. Following the election, Professor W. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Mercer county schools, gave an address on the "Rural Schools."

Boy Cuts Girl During Argument

Answering a call from 319½ Preston avenue, where it was reported that there had been a cutting affair, Detective John Young and Officer John Moore on Tuesday afternoon found that Dorothy Watkins, aged 14, of that address had been cut on the right shoulder blade with a penknife by John Krist, aged 13, of 202 Mahoning avenue. The injury while not serious was quite painful. Mother of the girl informed the police that she planned to make an information against the boy.

Firemen Call At Same Home Twice

Chimney trouble in the frame home of H. W. Douglas, 107 East Reynolds street, called firemen there Tuesday afternoon and again this morning. A stuffed grate was held responsible for a fire which brought $25 damage at about 2:10 p. m. Tuesday.

Burning soot in the chimney brought firemen at 7:45 a. m. today. The chimney fire ignited wall paper in the dining room. Firemen distributed the fire to a hole in the brick chimney.

Exhaust gas in closed garages has thus far killed 36 who hadn't yet used gasoline to start a fire.

Mothers... Watch Children's COLDS

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take a chance—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Musterole once every hour for five hours.

Children's Musterole is just good old Musterole, you have known so long, in milder form.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain.

Keep full strength Musterole on hand, for adults and the milder—Children's Musterole for little tots. All druggists.

Report Motorship Grounds On Reef

Motorship Northland, Carrying 31 Passengers, Grounds
Near Salmon River

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—
Bound for Ketchikan, Alaska, the motorship Northland, carrying 31 passengers, was beached off the mouth of the Salmon river after she tore a hole in her starboard side when she crashed into a reef off Helmen island, according to word received here early today by the Mackay Radio company.

The steamer Salvage King has been sent from Victoria, B. C., to aid the Northland.

Reports stated there was no panic aboard the ship.

The Northland is owned by the Northland Navigation company of Seattle and carried a crew of 39.

Men Resume Work At Cement Plant

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 14.—About 90 men returned to work this week at the plant of the West Penn Cement company of West Winfield. Several weeks will elapse before the plant is in full operation. General Manager O. J. Binford says. When running full about 225 men are employed.

A VOTE YOU CAST EVERY DAY

In America the people rule. They put parties in and out of power as they see fit. They choose presidents, governors and mayors. The law makers who do not do their bidding do not stay long on the job...

So the people control business. They buy what they like. What doesn't please them they pass by. Some concerns succeed and others do not—their fate is in the hands of the people.

In politics the people vote only at regular intervals. In business it's an every-day affair. By ballots in one case; by hard-earned dollars in the other. And every day more people vote in this way for A&P stores than for any other.

Only stores that serve the public well can stay on the job for 71 years.

Kentucky Mountaineers Are Reported Starving

Red Cross Learns That Approximately 200 Families In Kentucky Hills Starving

Five Executives Of Red Cross Are In Various Sections Checking Relief

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Two hundred families in a prosperous mountain community in Kentucky's mountains are estimated to be at starvation point, a red cross worker telegraphed headquarters here today.

Officials of the organization here stated the worst conditions encountered thus far has been found in the mountains of Kentucky.

Here the people have refused, in many instances to apply for help, although they knew it was available, a statement issued at headquarters, said "Red cross workers have been making canvasses from farm to farm in back regions, to relieve distress."

Meanwhile five executives of the organizations have been sent into the drought-affected states in the last few days to check on relief work with red cross field workers. William C. Hunt is in Alabama and will visit Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia. Maurice Reddy has been in Kentucky and is going to Tennessee. Walter Davidson is in West Virginia. Richard Thrush is in Mississippi and Ernest Krick is in Louisiana.

Wheeler And Thomas Criticize Red Cross For Use Of Funds

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President Hoover and the American Red Cross were jointly attacked on the floor of the Senate this afternoon by Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, for opposing the $15,000,000 food loan relief measure at a time when thousands of persons are going hungry in drought-ridden states.

The food loan provision, already stricken from the administration's drought relief bill by the House, probably will be abandoned by the Senate. Its elimination undoubtedly will result in a Senatorial inquiry into the financial condition of the Red Cross as two Senators, Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, and Wheeler (D) of Montana, have threatened such an inquiry.

Thomas and Wheeler criticized the Red Cross for spending large sums on "marble palaces" while withholding relief for hungry citizens in the drought states. They claimed the Red Cross had many millions of dollars in reserve, Thomas stating that a Red Cross official told him the organization had $26,000,000 in reserve.

American Association By Vote Today Accepts Terms Of Draft Of Majors

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—T. J. Hickey, president of the American Association, today announced that the association by a vote of the clubs had accepted the draft proposal of the major leagues.

The vote was five to two, one club, Minneapolis, refusing to vote. The Association voted once before to accept the major league draft proposal, but after a protest was lodged that the vote was taken illegally, the question was again submitted.

Hickey revealed that Columbus Indians, Toledo, St. Paul and Milwaukee had voted favorably and that Louisville and Kansas City had voted against accepting the draft.

Hickey said the result of the vote was made known to Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and that the Association clubs were now ready to do business with the majors.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A naval building program to cost $74,030,000 was favored unanimously today by the House Naval Affairs Committee.

In reporting the bill the committee eliminated a provision for a 6-inch gun cruiser, costing $16,605,000, requested by the Navy Department, and thus sided with the Navy General Board in opposing the 6-inch cruiser policy accepted by the American delegates at the London Naval Conference last year.

Thousand Gallons Of Liquor Aboard Truck Is Seized

Two Men On Truck Arrested By State Police, Give New York Addresses

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 14.—One thousand gallons of alcohol and a truck, the latter said to be owned by the Aycock Truck company, Brooklyn, N. Y., were confiscated today on the highway between Wilkes-Barre and Pittston.

Two men were arrested by troopers. One, driver of the truck, said his name was Mammie Kline, 742 Dawson street, New York City. His companion gave the name of Morris Olin, 1892 Andrews avenue, Brooklyn.

The alcohol, in 200 five-gallon cans, was hidden under six cases of furniture, troopers reported.

Miss Rebecca Horner of East street, a student at Slippery Rock State Teachers College, spent Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horner, in attendance at the golden wedding observance of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flanegin.

Motion pictures portraying the story of how an automobile is constructed were screened for the benefit of New Castle Kiwanians, following their usual weekly noon-hour luncheon in the Elks home today.

The films were shown through the courtesy of the Chambers Motor company here, with S. R. Coprowski handling the projection. T. E. Chambers, head of the firm was also present.

Before the film was viewed, Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, in behalf of the club, presented to Judge R. L. Hildebrand his past president's pin. Judge Hildebrand, who retired as president December 30, was not present to receive the pin at a special program a week or so ago. A new gavel was also given to President C. D. Parker.

A three-months' attendance contest, announced by President Parker last week commenced today. Team captains include Norman E. Clark, Lee Allen and Hans Drio.

NYE AGAIN TRIES TO OUST PENNSYLVANIA SENATOR

Sen. JAMES J. DAVIS $1,200,000.

Sen. NYE

In an endeavor to force James J. Davis, Republican senator from Pennsylvania, to join three men who in recent years have been barred from the senate, Senator Gerald P. Nye, chairman of the senate campaign investigating committee, is renewing his attack on the former secretary of labor.

Nye says the committee has found that the Davis-Brown (Francis Shunk Brown, defeated gubernatorial candidate) ticket spent approximately $1,200,000 in the primary and general election. William S. Vare, elected in 1926, was barred because he spent $750,000 during his campaign; Frank Smith of Illinois was denied his seat because he spent nearly as much, and Truman H. Newberry of Michigan was dropped from the senate, some years previously, because his friends admitted they spent $195,000 for his election. Nye tried to prevent the seating of Davis on the day he presented his credentials, but was voted down, 58 to 27.

Heavy Guard For Panama Buildings

Police Guard Government Buildings Against Any Counter-Revolution

FORMER GOVERNOR MAY START RUMPS

(International News Service)

COLON, Panama, Jan. 14.—A heavy guard of armed police was thrown about the government buildings in Colon today as a result of rumors Incencio Galindo Jr., former governor of the province planned a counter revolutionary attempt against the new regime in Panama. The rumors could not be confirmed.

As an indication of the uneasiness prevailing, reports of street fighting in Limon spread throughout Panama today, gaining wide circulation until governor Efraim Teljeida issued an official denial. A commission sent down to investigate the reported disturbance reported that rumors of rioting had resulted from shooting heard in the jungles surrounding the town. Investigation revealed the firing was done by American soldiers engaged in military maneuvers.

The town of Limon had been considerably alarmed by the shooting, and it was reported the Police Nacional had been called out as a precautionary measure.

Serious measures are being taken to prevent any untoward demonstrations when President-designate Ricardo Alfaro arrives from Washington tomorrow.

Bo Broadway

By Central Press NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A Wall Street chronicler narrates the story of young Angus who had been out for the evening with his best girl. When he arrived home he found his father still sitting up. The old man looked at his son and shook his head.

"Hae ye been out wi' you lassie again?" he queried. "Aye, dad," replied young Angus. "Why do ye look sae worried?" "I was wonderin' how much the evenin' cost."

"No more'n half a croon dad." "Aye? That was no sae muth." "It was a she hod," said Angus.

AMONG THE MISSING.

Bill Travers, stuttering wit of The Street, used to have a lot of fun kidding the crowd he traveled with.

On his first visit to Newport he stood long in contemplative admiration of a score of magnificent yachts, their rakish white hulls and burnished metal trimmings flashing in the summer sunlight.

"We call that our Wall Street fleet," volunteered his companion. "An' wh-eh-where," queried Travers naively, "are the customers' yachts?"

BETTER LUCK NEXT TIME.

An incensed correspondent says that after reading of the large amount of money daily garnered by pandhandlers on the streets of the city he fared forth to repair the ravages of the Existing Unpleasantness by a little fine and fancy pandhandling on his own hook. He found, he says, that the story of the public's largesse was "grossly exaggerated." After squandering an entire day sob-stuffing the casual pedestrian along the local equivalent of Rotten Row he netted exactly $2.65 and he thinks I owe him the difference.

"Why," he asks indignantly, "do you feed the public such lies?"

THE WATCH DOG SLEEPS.

Terry Druggan Is Given Sentence

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Terry Druggan, Chicago's original beer baron, was sentenced to serve a year in the county jail for contempt of court today.

Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, imposed the sentence and ordered Druggan led away to a cell to start sentence immediately.

Druggan, who became a millionaire through sale of beer, was in contempt for failing to appear in Lyle's court and answer a charge of vagrancy.

New York Central Sued For $25,000

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Jan. 14.—Damages totaling $25,000 are asked in a suit on file today against the New York Central railroad company by Mary Maciekiewicz, whose husband, Stanley S. 53, was killed instantly in an accident at a grade crossing in North East, Pa.

The widow alleges there was no watchman at the crossing when her husband, occupant of an auto being driven by Leo Meyers, of Erie, was struck by a westbound passenger train.

Unrest Apparent In Panama Today

Urgent Precautionary Measures Taken By Sudden Wave Of Unrest In Panama

(International News Service)

COLON, Panama, Jan. 14.—A sudden wave of public unrest today prompted the Panama authorities to take urgent precautionary measures against untoward demonstrations when President-designate Ricardo Alfaro arrives from Washington tomorrow.

Street fighting in Limon was followed by reports former governor Incencio Galindo, Jr., one of the staunchest supporters of the deposed President Florencio Arosemena, planned to stage a counter-revolution against the new regime.

As a result of these rumors, a strong guard of heavily armed police was thrown about the Colon government buildings.

The Limon rioting was staged by deposed officials of the Arosemena administration, and resulted in a call for a detachment of the Police Nacional. The rioting was put down without serious trouble. A commission has been sent to investigate the disturbance, although a telegram from the governor of the province this morning reported all quiet.

Continue Hunt For Lost Army Airman

Entire Coast South Of Galveston, Texas, Is Being Combed By Airplane

(International News Service)

GALESTON, Tex., Jan. 14.—Although virtually all hope for their recovery alive had been abandoned, Coast Guard vessels and airplanes continued today to search in this vicinity for two men lost in an army plane since Sunday night.

Lieut. Jonathan Grasty, pilot, and Chief Corporal Philip Schuchmann, were believed to have crashed or been forced down in the gulf somewhere near here on a flight from Brownsville to Fort Crockett.

Lieut. Grasty, 25, was a graduate of the University of Texas and the army's training school at Kelley field, San Antonio.

Thirty airplanes from Fort Crockett are adding five Coast Guard vessels in the search, which extends over a wide area along the coast southwest of here.

Womens Club To Stage Drive For New Members

Large Drive For New Members Of The Womens Club To Close At February Meeting

Local Workers Give Fine Talks At January Meeting Of Womens Club Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—At the January meeting of the Ellwood City Womens club, which took place on Tuesday afternoon in the Elks club, plans were formulated for a large membership drive, which will conclude at the February meeting when the names of new members will be submitted for the roll. Mrs. Thomas Wilson and her committee will have charge of the drive, and each member of the club is expected to secure one new member. There are many women in Ellwood City eligible to membership in the club, and it is expected that the proposed drive will double the present membership list.

Miss Betty Sowrey of the Community Service league gave a talk on her work among the poor of this city, and cited many interesting and true experiences she has encountered since her work began here. She stated that the main aim of the Community Service league was to aid the poor people in helping to become independent, which coincides with the ambitions of all true charitable institutions. Miss Shank, dental hygienist in the local schools, made her first appearance before the Womens club and gave an interesting account of her work. She stated that she cleans the teeth of from 15 to 20 children daily, gives them talks on hygiene and instructs them to visit their dentists if their teeth need attention. She averred that many of the children are woefully ignorant concerning the fundamentals of their teeth construction, and many think the teeth are made of glass and cannot understand decay. She closed her remarks by stating that dental hygiene in the schools is still in its infancy and that in years to come it will be part of the school curriculum.

Mrs. Berwick Barton presided at the meeting as vice president in place of Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, who is confined to her home by illness. The resignation of Mrs. Burton J. Bell as secretary of the club was accepted and Mrs. Thomason was elected to fill the vacancy.

The musical portion of the program was capably handled by Mrs. Frank Huffman, who sang "I Waited For You" by Gladwin and "I Passed By Your Window" by McDowell, in her lovely soprano voice. Hostesses of the day were Mrs. Robert Barlow, Mrs. S. Wilkoff, Mrs. F. L. Schweitzer and Mrs. H. C. Steinberger.

Name Executive Committee At Merchants Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—At a meeting of the Merchant's Division of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday in the Chamber headquarters the selection of an Executive committee occupied the minds of all present. At the close of the business meeting the newly elected Executive committee was announced as follows: Messrs. James Burchfield, Robert Crawford, James Blose, Wesley Martin, J. J. McLaughlin, J. I. Porter and Earl B. Yahn. Ballots will soon be sent out to all the merchant members on the division to vote for one of these men as chairman of the committee.

This is a departure from the customary routine. Heretofore a chairman has been elected and permitted to select his own executive body. The matter of broadcasting a weekly co-operative hour for Ellwood City over WJAS was referred to the Executive committee for investigation and consideration.

Toxin-Antitoxin Will Be Given

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—In a week or two the schools will put on their annual campaign of toxin-antitoxin injections it is announced. Blanks will be sent out to be signed by the parents of those who have not as yet received treatment. The injection will be made to all children of school age and pre-school age.

The local school authorities are endeavoring in every way to eliminate disease from the schools, and this is one of their successful steps.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hogue of this city, entertained a group of friends recently at their home. The evening passed pleasantly in a social manner and later light refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hogue, William Waters, Dortha Houk, Marian Hogue, Wade Kennedy, Lester Kennedy and Ethel Waters, enjoyed the Hogue hospitality.

Quota Club Has Official Election

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Members of the Ellwood City Quota club enjoyed a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Miss Louise Barton of Glen avenue.

Election of officers for 1937 were elected as follows: President, Miss Mabel Long; Vice President, Mrs. Catherine Charles; Secretary, Mrs. Herge and Treasurer, Miss Rebecca McConaghy.

At the close of the business meeting the hostess showed interesting motion pictures. Later light refreshments concluded the pleasant meeting.

Women To Take Study Trip In Coming Year

Missionary Society Of Christian Church To Take Study Tour Around World

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Members of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. L. W. Monroe of Ewing Park, Tuesday evening for their monthly session. At this time they started their study tour of the world with a discussion on Cincinnati, including the Christian Restoration and Cincinnati Bible seminary. They will also review that well-known missionary book, "Dr. Shelton in Tibet." Mrs. Thomas Rogers had charge of the program last night and Mrs. L. W. Monroe conducted the Devotional service.

Legion Auxiliary Plans For Four County Council

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—At the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion auxiliary which took place Tuesday night in the Legion rooms, plans were made to send two delegates to the Four County Council luncheon on February 22. Those who will attend will be Mrs. L. W. Nickum and Mrs. Wallace McCormack. It is desired that a large number of members show their interest by attending this luncheon, and reservations can be made by notifying Mrs. Frank Neuman.

During the business meeting an interesting report of the fine contribution to the Ex-Service mens baskets Christmas time was given by Mrs. L. W. Nickum. Many pairs of hose were donated to the Coatesville hospital, from which rugs will be made by the ex-service men confined there.

At the close of the business session refreshments were served by Mrs. Harry Brown and her committee. Later bridge and 600 games were enjoyed. Prize for the former going to Mrs. Fred Rutter and to Mrs. E. R. Kelly for the latter.

High Reserves Are Defeated

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—The high school reserves were defeated by the New Castle trade school 20-16 last night in a preliminary contest to the Ellwood-Bessemer game. The contest was close and exciting. The game was deadlocked in the third quarter at 16 all. In the final period the invaders were able to give a better account of themselves than the reserves, taking the game with a 20-16 score.

Lineup:

GEORHRING SERVICES
ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Funeral services for John Georhring, whose tragic death occurred on Saturday morning, were held from the Burys Lutheran church in North Sewickley Township, yesterday afternoon.

The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. Theodore Fischer, pastor and was largely attended.

The deceased was a pioneer resident of this section and had attained the advanced age of 84 years, and his death was particularly sad as he was injured by an automobile, driven by Bentel Steifel, a life long friend.

Mr. Georhring had returned from a trip to Ellwood City and had alighted from the Harmony car, when a car driven by Mr. Steifel was accidentally backed over the aged man which resulted in his death.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Caroline Pifough Georhring, two daughters, Mrs. Charles Zeigler of Beaver and Miss Edna at home, five sons, H. L., G. J., William H., Henry D., and John C., all residents of Beaver Co., twenty-six grand children and five great grandchildren.

Interment was made in the Burry cemetery on the Zelenople-Rochester road.

Ellwood High Tops Bessemer

Ellwood City High Team Wins Third Straight Game By Downing Bessemer 17-14

ZIEGLER-CLOAK HIGH SCORERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 14.—Ellwood high defeated Bessemer here last night in a close game 17-14. The Ellwood City high school cagers are out to be in the running for the W. P. I. A. L. crown. Starting a winning streak with Mars last Tuesday, they defeated Evans City and Bessemer in succession. The first two are league contests while the latter is not.

After breaking even in the pre-season games the local boys have finally hit their stride, which they hope to maintain.

The local five seemed to control the situation very well in every period not once losing the lead. The game was strictly a defensive one with little scoring on either side. The sterling defense by both teams necessitated the shooting of many long shots, with the Ellwood cagers getting the better of it.

Three New Teachers Will Be Elected

Ellwood School Board To Add Three Teachers To Local Staff

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—The board of education in its regular meeting in the Lincoln building last night decided to elect three extra teachers.

This will be a necessity because of the great number of pupils to enter school at mid-term.

President of the board H. E. Helling announced that the Department of Public Instruction will make a survey of future school needs for the board. A satisfactory report was given on the condition of the schools by B. J. McCandless, local contractor.

The board had passed a resolution to withhold payment temporarily to the Eckles Company and the Industrial Electrical Company until some changes are made in work at the Lincoln auditorium.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Work Of Committee Men

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Thirty-two members of the Ellwood City Kiwanis club enjoyed their weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Trinity Lutheran church.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. John S. Wells of Beaver Falls, a Kiwanis official of prominent standing, who gave a splendid talk on Kiwanis Education in general and the work of committees in particular. His talk was very interesting and well received by the local clubmen.

Hostesses Entertain At Lovely Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 14.—Mrs. W. Bruce Hunter and Mrs. Walter Kohn entertained at a pretty bridge party Tuesday evening at the Hunter home on Glen avenue.

Seven tables were in play, and a pleasant evening was enjoyed at cards. At the conclusion of play score honors were won by Mrs. Roland Haines and Mrs. Carl Steifel.

Miss Gladys Comer, a bride-to-be and Mrs. Burton J. Bell, who is leaving to reside permanently in Hornell, N. Y., each received a lovely gift also.

The house was decorated in cut flowers of roses, narcissus, sweet peas and snap dragons. The evening concluded with the serving of delicious refreshments, at which time Mrs. H. J. Jenkins and Mrs. Roland Haines assisted the hostesses.

Those enjoying the event were: Mesdames Herbert Davis, Carl Steifel, Lillian Thomas, Henry Schenck, Theodore Markwort, Boyd Zeigler, Howard Black, W. W. Seidel, James Hereford, Burton J. Bell, W. R. Thompson, Roland Haines, H. J. Jenkins, Charles French, Jas. Fitzgerald, Carl Zeigler, Ray Aylesworth, R. C. Steifel, Harold Seidel, Robt. Forbes, William Pugh, J. C. Schmeling Angered By Action Of Manager In Signing For Stribling

Herr Maxie Indignant When Informed He Will Now Meet Willie Stribling

Winner Of Bout Promised Match With Primo Carnera For Heavy-weight Toga

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight holder of the world's fistic crown, expressed pained "surprise" today when informed that his American manager had signed him for a bout with W. L. "Young" Stribling, and declared he felt under no obligation to agree to such a contract.

Advised also by International News Service that under the arrangement agreed to in New York last night by Joe Jacobs and W. L. Stribling, Sr., respective managers of the two scrappers, the winner of the bout was to measure up against Primo Carnera, Italian giant, within 90 days, Herr Schmeling waxed positively indignant.

Quite Surprised
"I am surprised indeed that Mr. Jacobs should have signed such a contract without notifying me," Herr Maxie said with a hurt tone. "But pending direct information from my manager, I can only say that I do not feel bound to stick to any such contract because it was expressly stipulated between us prior to my departure for home that he would not sign me away without first receiving my approval."

"I most certainly have not been consulted on the matter, and I have not been aware that the agreement between us has been changed since then."

The real shock to Schmeling, it appeared, was provided in the stipulation that the victor of the Schmeling-Stribling melee should consent to step into the ring with Carnera three months after the preceding tussle.

"It seems impossible," the German champion exploded, "that I should have to fight Stribling in an elimination contest for the sake of meeting Carnera afterwards! There must be some mistake. My contract with Madison Square Garden provides for approval by Jacobs and myself on forthcoming fights, because otherwise they certainly could do as they pleased with me."

Grove City Trims Waynesburg, 33-25

Yellow Jackets Put Up Fine Game, But Are Beaten By Crimson Quintet

(International News Service)
GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 14.—Waynesburg's basketball team left here today slightly sorrier than they came after a decisive victory for the Grove City five, 32-25 last night. Up until the first half the game was in considerable doubt with Waynesburg possessing the lead as much as the Groves. During the second half, though the quintet here simply deluged the Yellow Jackets under a flood of baskets to make a victorious comeback.

Schools Are Closed By Scarlet Fever

WARREN, O., Jan. 14.—Hubbard, a town of 500 near here, has a scarlet fever epidemic which has resulted in the closing of three schools, all churches, motion picture shows and postponement of all public gatherings. The state board of health took over the situation Tuesday and ordered the closing schools. The new cases were reported.
County health records show 22 cases reported in Hubbard township, but other reports had the number of cases over 100.
More than 2,000 children were sent home today from the public schools.

Commission To Rule On Match

New York Boxing Commission Meets Today To Discuss Heavy-weight Scrap

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—While Max Schmeling, Willie Stribling and Primo Carnera looked forward today to playing bean bag with the heavyweight title for the next eighteen months, the Madison Square Garden Corporation of New York cast apprehensive eyes at the meeting of the New York boxing commission this afternoon.

Members of the commission, the boxer's managers and the promoters were all safely tucked in bed early this morning when word of Schmeling's latest attitude was received in New York and they no doubt will be dumbfounded when informed that Mix is of the opinion he is not bound to fight Stribling and then if he wins to battle Carnera. These were the arrangements made yesterday and these are the arrangements Schmeling says he does not like and may not agree to.

Of course it was expected the view would be taken here that the German was merely doing a "prima donna" act and that he probably would go through with the Stribling bout and should he win be glad to later meet Carnera.

When Schmeling and Stribling were signed late yesterday for a June titlar bout, with the winner to meet Carnera in September, the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois was named as co-promoter with the milk fund. Illinois, not New York. The man who signed for the garden interests was not William F. Carey, head of the New York Garden Corporation, but William B. Saxe, president of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois and a member of the law firm which represents the garden here.

The colored man in this particular legal woodpile is that New York commission is said to have threatened to suspend Madison Square Garden for ninety days if it has any dealings with Schmeling or Carnera, both of whom are under the ban here. Carey can truthfully say that he has taken no part in the dealings with Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, of Bill Duffy, Carnera's American representative. The crux of the tangle is whether the commission's ire will be roused by the Garden's evasion in handling the matter through its Illinois subsidiary.

Stove League Gossip

Ever hear of Pat J. Donovan? You probably haven't if your baseball interest doesn't date prior to 1911. So you may be surprised to hear that Pat was as well known in his day as Al Simmons is now.

Pat was a fine outfielder and a leading batsman and a manager who had plenty of luck, but all of it bad.

Donovan was doing outfield duty for the Washington Senators in 1904 when wrangling among the club officials caused League President Ban Johnson to remove them, including President-Manager Tom Loftis. Pat finished out the season as manager.

The next year, under a new regime Pat was removed in favor of J. Garland Stahl. Having had one taste of managerial work, Pat liked it and managed to hook up with Brooklyn for the 1906 season.

Pat bossed the Dodgers for three years but couldn't get the club out of the second division. The late Charley Ebbets, then president of the Brooklyn, removed Pat in 1909 in favor of Harry Lumley.

Patrick's last chance came in 1910 with the Boston Red Sox. He finished fourth in the race but again a change of ownership left him out in the cold in 1911 and, strangely enough once more his successor was Stahl.

Donovan drifted around in the Class AA leagues and in the lesser minors for a few years, never again getting a chance at major league managing.

At this point major league meeting in New York some weeks ago put Pat in an appearance. He was looking for someone who was looking for someone with baseball knowledge and plenty of ability. He wanted a job.

Ben Franklin Team Winner

Defeats Ellwood City Junior High Team In Good Contest

Taking an early lead, an impressive Ben Franklin Junior high school basketball team won its second straight victory on Monday afternoon on the Franklin floor, defeating the Ellwood City Junior high school quintet by a 21-8 score.
Ellwood City jumped into an early lead in the first ten seconds of play when Tanaro tossed the ball through the hoops for two points. Bunte followed with a free throw to give the visitors a three point lead. From here on Franklin held the Ellwood City boys in check while they piled up points that resulted in victory.
The first half which proved fast, ended with the Coach Gillespie boys on top by an 11-4 score. The field goal scored by Ellwood City in the first few seconds was the only one the visitors were able to score. During the second half, Ellwood City added four more points via the charity line to bring its total for the afternoon to 8 while Franklin annexed 10 markers in the second half for a total of 21, enough to win the contest.
The final score favored Franklin, 21-8. This afternoon Ben Franklin meets Wampum High on the Franklin floor and on Friday night the opening game of the City High school league will be played with Ben Franklin meeting George Washington Junior high on the Franklin floor.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks Dip And Rally In Dull, Slow Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Stocks dipped and rallied in a dull and slow market this morning. The bears again hammered Vanadium and other specialties in an effort to send the market lower, but the bulls had the benefit of a very encouraging weekly survey of the steel industry by the Iron Age and favorable forecasts by the big bankers. The Iron Age reported an increase in steel output to 44 per cent of capacity, a gain of about 15 per cent since Christmas week. Pipe Lines, Public Works, Rail contracts and Tin Plate business, according to the Iron Age, have added materially to steel mill backlogs. U. S. Steel rallied to 141½, after an early dip below 141 and Bethlehem was unaffected by the prospect of a legal fight for the sum of $36,000,000 demanded as restitution of officers' bonuses.

The Crude Oil price reductions predicted yesterday were officially posted today by the Humble Company, the cuts ranging from 2 to 28 cents a barrel. Other companies have taken or will take, a similar course, in a further effort to stabilize the oil trade. Both the Standard and the Independent Oil shares were steady today, with small demand. Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Atchison, Southern Pacific and other high grade rails made an effort to resume their advance in the second hour. The Gas and Electric Light stocks were also inclined slightly higher. Coppers, Motors and Sugars were quiet. Cotton and Grain were steady, bonds reactionary and money rates remained unchanged, with a dropping off in the supply of 1 per cent outside call money.

Schmeling Will Fight Stribling

German Heavyweight Changes His Mind—Carnera Will Get Shot At Winner

By WALTER DIETZEL

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight holder of the world's championship, today cabled to his American manager Joe Jacobs instructing him to accept contracts to fight with William (Young) Stribling and Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight.

Reversing himself on a previous declaration to International News Service that he did "not feel bound" by any such contract, Schmeling said he had subsequently received a cable from Jacobs which explained the contracts the American manager was negotiating.

"Jacobs' cable explained that this contract bring both Stribling and Carnera into our camp, and that means two fights for me, if I win, which I think I will," the German champion said.

"Chicago suites me fine as the place for the fight, I like the town and the climate there," Schmeling said. He probably would sail for the United States on the liner Europa which leaves on January 21.

Buccaneers Win From Merchants

The New Castle Buccaneers traveled to Wampum last night and defeated the Wampum Merchants 29 to 23, in a fast and exciting game. The locals led at the half 17 to 16. The Buccaneers kept up their good work in the first quarter to win the game, "Ted" Wallace was the big scorer of the game with seven baskets. B. Wallace and Brenner also played good basketball. For Wampum the work of Allio, and DeMark featured.

The summary: Buccaneers—29 Wampum—23. T. Wallace, F. Boone, B. Wallace, F. Brenner, White, Brenner, C. Allio, Dinsmore, G. DeMark, Sanders, G. Ferrucci. Subs.—R. Wallace for Dinsmore; McKim for Boone. Field goals—"Ted" Wallace 7; B. Wallace, 4; Brenner, 3; Allio, 4; White, 2; McKim, 1; DeMark, 2; Ferrucci, 1. Fouls—Wampum, 3 out of 6; Buccaneers, 1 out of 5. Referee—Beres, West Pittsburgh. Scorer—Gafney.

In the second quarter the visitors presented a threat by tying the score at 6 all. But this was short lived for Zeigler and Cloak again came to the fold with a two pointer apiece, making the score at the half 10-6 in their favor. At the beginning of the third quarter the invaders made a vain effort to take the lead. But every time they would come within a basket of tying the score again the locals would always add to their score. They finally gained an additional point this period when Grist sank his basket, thus outscoring Ellwood 6-5 in this period. The score at the end of the quarter was 15-12 for the home team.

Fine Defensive Game.

In the final stanza both teams presented a good defensive combination. The locals could not score from the court this period and the invaders accounted for one basket. But Kennedy balanced this by counting up two points from the charity line. Many long shots were attempted, but of no avail. The game ended with the score standing 17-14 for Ellwood.

Scoring honors for Ellwood were divided between Zeigler, Cloak and Kennedy with two buckets apiece; while Grist of Bessemer topped all with three field goals. Lineup:—Ellwood 17: Bessemer 14. Cloak, Kennedy, F. Boone, Puromaki, Zeigler, C. Grist, A. Frick, Latiano, G. Stanley. Substitutions—Ellwood: Dudick for Zeigler, Smith for Latiano; Bessemer: Swanson for A. Frick; Foulis; Ellwood, 5 out of 10; Bessemer, 2 out of 7. Referee—Lewis.

Hoose, Graham In "Is Zat So" Leads

Practices Go Forward For Guild Benefit Comedy On January 21-22

Robert Hoose, portraying the part of a prize fighter and Joe Graham, the prize fighter's manager, take leads in the three-act comedy "Is Zat So", which the New Castle Civic Theatre guild presents as a benefit for the unemployed in the senior high school, January 21 and 22.

Miss Mollie Livingston plays the role of nurse, and the part of "Marie," the secretary, is capably filled by Buddie Barrett. There is an additional cast of talented players. Rehearsals for the production are going forward nightly.

Highway Work Is Big Factor In Employment

Road Program During Year Helped To Swell State Payrolls

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—A direct contribution to the relief of unemployment was made in 1936 by the Pennsylvania department of highways in the sum of $25,419,677.86, according to an estimate prepared for Samuel Eckels, chief engineer. The sum represents money paid to labor in the production, preparation and construction with the materials that went into roads during the year.

An idea of the large scale on which operations were conducted may be gained, Eckels said, from the following quantities of materials that went into the construction of 1310 miles of roads:

Stone, slag and gravel, 4,870,058 tons.
Sand, 1,596,144 tons.
Cement, 2,904,855 barrels.
Lumber, 8,634,000 board feet.
Pipe culverts, 669,600 linear feet.
Pipe underdrain, 1,122,000 linear feet.
Expansion jt. mat., 846 miles road.
Curing material, 846 miles road.
Roadway steel, 26,226 tons.
Reinforcing and structural steel, 16,457 tons.

Macadam roads require an initial surface treatment shortly after completion. During 1936 this work required 2,449,920 gallons of special bituminous material, commonly called "oil".

With the cooperation of the firms that furnished materials for roads, it has been determined what proportion of the total cost is paid to labor in production. The above materials represents payments to labor of more than $6,459,442.60. Freight charges for shipping the materials to road jobs totaled more than $6,000,000 of which nearly half was directly paid out to labor.

Equipment used in construction accounts for another item of nearly $1,500,000 paid to labor in the production of machinery, tools, etc. The total payments of more than $10,000,000 paid to labor in production of materials and equipment, and shipping service, takes no account of explosives, fuel and other materials used by the first line industries furnishing these materials to the highway industry.

Payrolls of the contractors and department forces add $14,535,139.50 to the $10,884,538.36 already paid out in materials, labor, and total $25,419,677.86.

A tabulation of wages paid during 1936 shows that in the four months, January to April, formerly regarded as "dull" or "non-construction" period, a total of $1,819,440 was paid to labor on highway work.

This figure does not include employees engaged in routine maintenance work of the department, but indicates wages that would not have been paid had not a large construction program been in progress.

Following is a tabulation of direct wages by months from May to December, 1936, occasioned by the construction program:

May $1,408,140.00
June 1,853,755.00
July 2,534,625.00
August 2,525,062.50
September 1,862,289.00
October 1,385,208.00
November 820,620.00
December 324,000.00

By tracing costs back to producing industries and all others allied with or contributing to the ultimate construction of roads and bridges it was estimated that $51,200,000 of the expenditures represent day-wages, directly furnishing employment to 47,400 men for an average of 240 days in 1936. This is nearly 1 1/2 per cent of the total of wage earners in the state.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It seems as though fire trucks could be made more musical. This thing of careening down the street in the middle of the night with the sirens shattering the air is something that needs attention. Not that we don't need fire trucks and warning horns, but wouldn't it be possible to put a musical touch into them?

Take this morning if you care to. Just when a fellow is dreaming of some sunny clime, with a long stretch of sandy beach, and things of that nature, down comes the fire equipment with at siren going like the wall of a banshee.

It has been suggested that musical sirens be put on the trucks, with different records for different occasions. For instance if a dance hall was on fire the truck could play "Red Hot Mamma" on the way over, while if the fire was in the district where a dairy is, they could change the record to "Shall We Gather At the River?"

Most anything would be easier on the nerves than the sirens. Starting down about F sharp, the wall works itself into a lather on the way up the scale, sounding for all the world like a wind storm blowing through a zither factory, and ending up with a tremolo stop effect on D above high C.

The income tax men are enjoying their annual flurry of popularity or whatever it is. With the turning of the year Uncle Sam sent out your blank, or did you yet yours, and sometime between now and March 15 you'll have to tell the old boy what you made, where you made it, and why.

Once again the condition at the Perry Highway crossing at Harlansburg has been drawn to the attention of his colyum and once again there is nothing we can do about it, except pass it along to the highway department. However, it is a fact, that this crossing is dangerous although when it was put in the lead-outs made it appear that it would be as safe as a flatboat.

Experience has proven differently. Going out of Harlansburg you shoot down a grade and before you know it, you are on the crossing, with the Perry Highway having the right of way. All sorts of suggestions have come in as to what should be done, including an overhead bridge for the Harlansburg road traffic. This may be a little extreme, but some system of lights or larger signs might help out there.

Acknowledgment is made for the receipt of the Westminster Herald which has come to this desk. The Herald, if you don't know, is the weekly newspaper of Westminster College and a mighty good paper it is. Getting out a newspaper, of by and for students, and making it interesting enough that outsiders find pleasure in reading it, is a task requiring something more than a typewriter and a briar pipe.

N New Castle boy is editor-in-chief of the Argo, the annual year-book of the school. This book has twice won All-American honors among American college year books and it is up to Louis Hazen this year to keep the flag flying and all that sort of thing.

There is a rather dignified looking monument just above Jamestown, Pa., which stands out there alone and passing motorists wonder how come. The answer, according to Attorney Harvey Martin, is that the monument was erected by a man in honor of himself, a Dr. Gibson who once lived in Jamestown.

According to the story, this gentleman was the original of "The Grouch" spoken of by Mark Twain in his "Innocents Abroad" and once the fact became known, Dr. Gibson was known thereafter by that appellation. According to the story he didn't like it and perhaps because of it, decided to build a monument to himself and his wife, leaving two vaults in it for their remains.

Arrangements were made that once the bodies were inside, the place was locked in such a manner that only dynamite or the Angel Gabriel could get in. And there they are lying at the bottom of a monument which all the world can see as it passes by, "The Grouch" and his wife.

Two Cars Damaged In Street Accident

Robert Reiber, 118 Laurel avenue, reported to the police Tuesday, that he was enroute east on East North street at the Post Office, as C. J. Taylor was enroute in the same direction from North street at the same time and when Mr. Taylor attempted to pass between the two machines, that of Mr. Reiber and the machine coming in the opposite direction, he hit and damaged the Reiber machine, also doing some damage to his own machine.

Store Robbed And Suspect Apprehended

Detective C. G. Logan and Officers Longstrech and Campbell made the investigation of the robbery reported last yesterday as having taken place at the cigar and candy store of Andy Fomicchella during the previous night. About twenty-five dollars worth of candy, cigars and cigarettes and $10 in pennies were taken. Last evening, a boy was picked up by Detective John Young and assisting officers as a suspect in the case. The investigation is continuing.

Observers in England who have been making notes of the popular races between airplanes and trained racing pigeons have come to the conclusion that the bird can fly faster than the machine. Not that the birds always win, but it is contended that they could win almost invariably if, when liberated, they did not spend some time circling to make sure of their directions. As a result of this handicap, the planes some times gain as much as 30 miles. Swallows, jacksnaws and starlings, which are noted for their speed, have been seen to outpace planes. Vultures can dive at a rate of 400 miles an hour. Hawks and birds of prey generally have streamlined bodies which make them faster than other birds.
